

Haliburton park plan conditional on grants

A model of the proposed Haliburton park

Revised plan envisions $350,000 park with amphitheatre seating up to 1000

Dysart et al council approved Monday, plans to create $350,000 park on the shore of Head Lake in Haliburton Village. The plan, prepared at a cost of $8000 by the firm of Campfens Greer Galloway, architect planners, is a revision of an earlier plan prepared for the site.

The preliminary park plan estimated development costs at $198,000. Wintario funding for the proposed development was approved, but a revised plan was sought when council became convinced that the first plan did not "do justice to the site", according to reeve Murray Feary.

The revised plan calls for the creation of a park on land behind the CNR tracks in Haliburton, and for improvements to the existing Rotary Park.

A water theme has been used in preparing the plan, architect Anthony Campfens told council in a slide presentation Monday. The entire design is "labour intensive", meaning that existing materials such as earth and rock from the site will be used to create the park setting.

Included in the plan is the expansion of the tennis courts at Rotary Park to three court surfaces from the present two, and the construction of a banked area or "berm" adjacent to the court for spectators. A pier with an observation tower resembling a ship's "crow's nest" is also planned, as is a change house that would serve both the beach and the tennis courts.

A bridge will link Rotary Park with the land on the main street side of the Drag River, and a boardwalk will connect the park with the existing government dock. Also included in the revised plan is a creative play area for children, a wading pool with a natural rock and water setting and slide, an amphitheatre similar to the forum at Ontario place using banked earth, and a bandshell facing the amphitheatre. "We believe that you could have between 500 and 1000 people seated in the area easily," Campfens told council.

The overall project could be completed in a year, Campfens said, if contractors were hired and a large crew used. "But to be realistic" he said, "we see it (the construction group) as a crew of people who can go from one job to another."

"We see it as a project over several years." Development of the site could begin with basic landscaping, including the planting of a large number of trees and the construction of a bridge over the Drag River. Fill on the site could also be moved to form the amphitheatre and other landscaped features over a period of time, Campfens said.

Some of the items which make a lot of park for a little money, like the berms and so on, could be done first," he said.

Reeve Murray Feary told Campfens that council wasn't yet sure how the project schedule would be worked out in terms of funding. He said the overall revised plan had to be approved for funding before work on the project could begin in earnest.

Wintario funding is available up to 50 percent of the parks' value, and grants may also come from the Ministry of Natural Resources under the

Shoppers will be questioned

Two students will be questioning shoppers in Haliburton and Minden during the next month in an effort to give the business area improvement committee in Haliburton and the business association in Minden, ideas for changes to the villages' shopping districts.

Louise Fleming of Minden and Cathy Richardson, a cottager from Drag Lake, have been hired through the Experience '78 program and the Ministry of Housing to conduct the survey.

Chamber of Commerce Manager, Bob Stinson, said Monday that the two designed a questionnaire in consultation with the Minden and Haliburton merchant groups. The students tried the questionnaire for a day on area shoppers, then revised it based on their experiences during the test.

The Minden Business Association approved the revamped survey, and at a meeting Friday, the Haliburton business area improvement committee also gave it the go-ahead.

Three separate questionnaires have been drawn up, Stinson said. One is directed toward merchants, asking for their ideas about changes to shopping areas and their willingness to become involved in those changes.

The second is for resident consumers, those who live and shop in Haliburton Co. the year round.

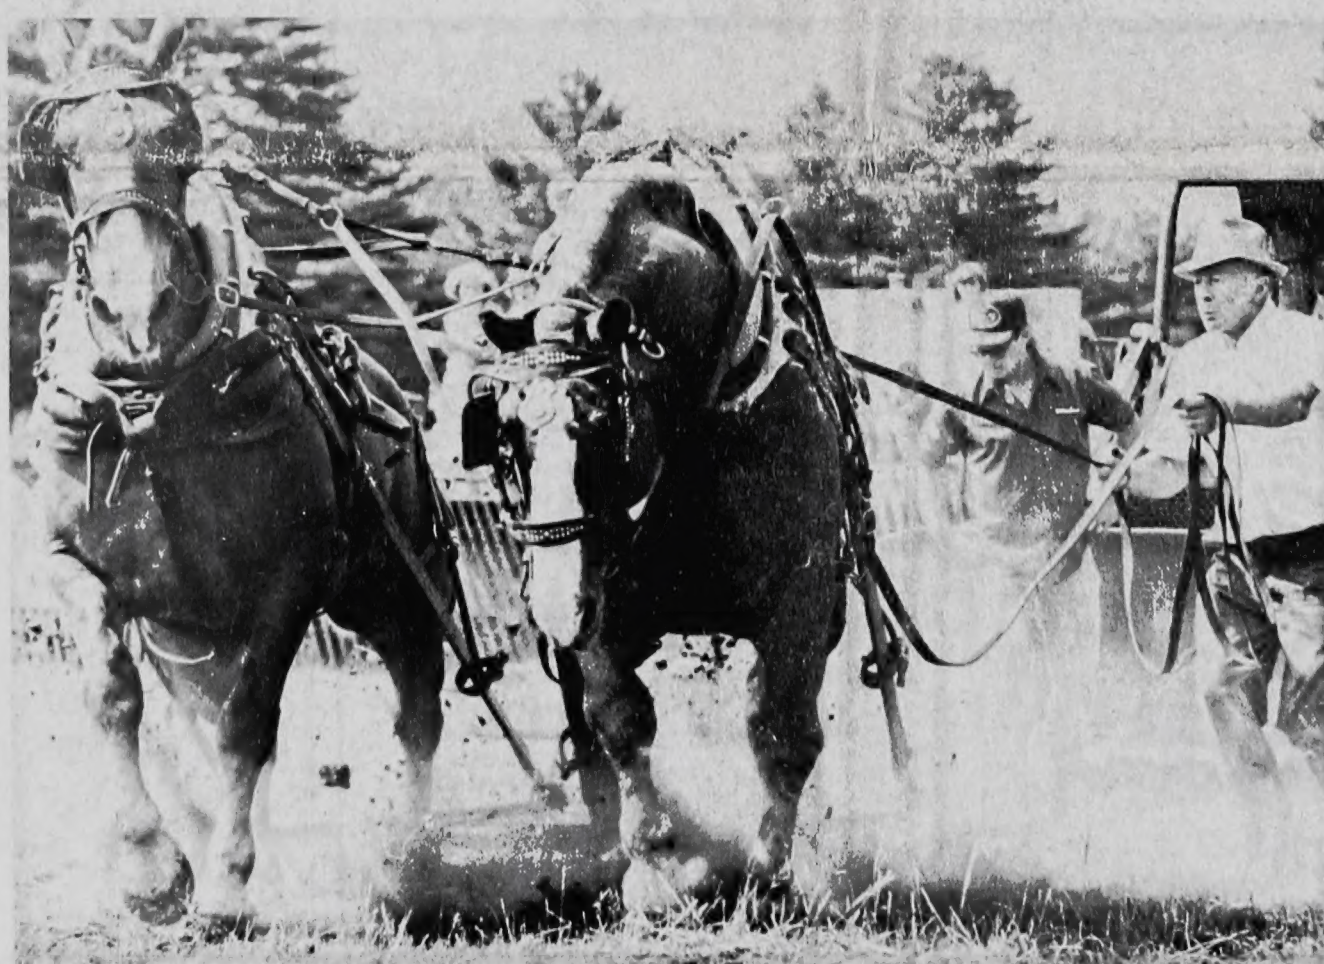

The third questionnaire has been designed for visiting consumers, those who own cottages, visit lodges, or who may be staying only a week or two in the area.

"When we're all done, we should be able to come up with some concrete suggestions" for improvements, the Chamber manager said.

The two students will also conduct a door-to-door survey in Ingoldsby, to determine the shopping habits of the hamlet's residents.

The questioning of shoppers on the streets of Haliburton and Minden is expected to continue through mid August. The students will spend the final two weeks of the summer compiling results of the survey. The information they gather will then be given to both the Minden and Haliburton merchant groups.

"Hopefully, we'll come up with a proposal that can be taken to the municipalities", Stinson said.

Stanhope seeks federal government funding

Airport work to cost $272,000

Stanhope Township will be applying to the federal government for a grant of $100,000 to finance improvements and additions to the Stanhope Airport.

Gerald Bain, the clerk of Stanhope, is now preparing the application and says that it should be ready some time next week.

A feasibility study has been completed by the airport committee, recommending short and long term improvements to the Stanhope facilities. Improvements to the airport may include construction of a paved runway which will also be realigned to minimize flight path encroachments, construction of a paved apron and taxiway, clearing of trees interfering with the flight paths, runway lighting, and drainage improvements. Total costs have been estimated at $272,000.

No cost estimates have been provided for the purchasing of the property necessary to construct the runway and clearances or for the removal of interfering farm buildings.

The project is a two-phased program, but council will not decide on the long-term improvements until the first phase is completed and monies have been gathered.

Bain said Air Transport Canada, who will be responsible for recommending the grant, will send engineers to the airport to examine the facilities. A feasibility study will be prepared by them, in conjunction with the township's report, and a decision on how much, if any, money will be granted will then be reached.

"They can make a discretionary decision on the basis of what they feel we need," said Bain.

If the grant is accepted for the full amount, drainage improvements and the clearing of the trees, as well as paving the runway and providing a granular base, will be given priority in the first phase.

Haliburton merchants may form an association soon

The business people of Haliburton may form an association before the end of the summer season, according to Bob Stinson, manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce.

A merchants association was formed recently in Minden, and the group has been looking at the need for improvements to the village's

County council concerned

Children's service shift is planned

The province of Ontario is currently planning to shift the responsibility for the administration of Children's Services from the provincial level and place it in the hands of local municipalities. Haliburton County council, however, is concerned that the move may end up placing a larger financial burden on local taxpayers than would be fair.

A committee has been formed to study the proposed shift in responsibility as it affects the combined areas of Haliburton, Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland Counties.

At a provincial Municipal Liaison Committee meeting, in March, Keith Norton, Minister of Community and Social Services, said that "in the first stages of the effort (to re-organize services) responsibilities for the funding of children's services will not be transferred to the local committee."

The later stages of the reform of children's services will, however, see the responsibility for funding placed in the hands of local municipalities, a situation that has county council worried.

Council's representative on the children's services committee, Snowdon reeve, Donald Smedmor, reported to council last month that funding responsibilities are a major concern of the committee. He said the committee feels the sharing of these costs should be based on a formula of population and assessment.

Dysart et al reeve, Murray Fearey, noted that Haliburton County could be faced with an unfair burden because of the large number of group homes that operate here.

Fearey noted that because the county has a large number of vacant farms and farm houses, numerous group homes have been formed over the last few years using these houses and lands. The county could face a real financial hardship if the funding for these homes came from local taxpayers instead of from the province.

"We should not be put in a position by the province that we are now going to be penalized for having a fairly large number of group homes," he said.

Smedmor said the current plan is to make the cost of supporting children in group homes the responsibility of the municipality from which the children came.

Many of the children in Haliburton area group homes have been sent here from other centres, including Toronto. Under the proposed scheme for funding, the children's services committee which will be required to fund the homes, will be able to seek compensation from the municipalities where the children were born.

Council noted that the planning of the shift to local committees would have to be watched very carefully with the financial side of the proposal in particular needing scrutiny.

A Mississauga man was killed last Tuesday when he was thrown out of this truck and crushed on Pine Street in Haliburton.

Truck flips, man killed on Haliburton street

A 21-year-old Mississauga man was killed last Tuesday, in Haliburton village, when he was thrown out of the passenger window of a vehicle which then rolled on top of him.

Dead is William T. Baker, one of two persons travelling in a 1976 GMC 'Jimmy'. Driver of the truck, Randy Collier, 22, of Haliburton, lost control of the truck while southbound on Pine Street. It rolled over, and struck an embankment, throwing out both occupants. Collier sustained minor injuries.

Witnesses at the scene reported that the truck had made a fast 'U' turn in front of Banks' General Store. Although no one reported seeing Collier lose control of the vehicle, one man reported that he had seen the truck "flip over."

Coroner, Dr. H. Good, attended the scene and pronounced Baker dead. A post-mortem was carried out at Peterborough General Hospital last Wednesday. No inquest will be held.

Police say there was initially some difficulty in determining who had been driving the vehicle, but Collier has been charged with dangerous driving.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $500.

A model of the proposed Haliburton park was presented at a meeting of Dysart council Monday. Above is a view of part of the model, showing the approved parks program.

Fearrey expressed confidence that the revised proposal would win funding approval.

Private sector funding is not expected to exceed $100,000, and $20,000 of that amount has already been donated by Haliburton citizen Rex Boice. Service clubs and other community groups are expected to take part in raising the necessary private sector funding.

Approval of Wintario funding could come as early as next month, with landscaping work beginning by autumn.

A public meeting to outline the revised park plan will be held July 26 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Ratepayers will have an opportunity to view a model of the park, see a slide presentation, and to make recommendations for changes to the plan before final approval is sought.

Car skids, strikes hydro pole

Single car crash injures five

Five people were injured, one seriously, after their eastbound car rolled over and struck a hydro pole last Tuesday morning.

The driver, Steven Muirhead, 20, of St. Catharines, has been charged with failing to wear a seatbelt and careless driving after the incident occurred on Main Street in Minden.

Lynne Stevenson, 18, of Agincourt, James Crawford, 18, of Minden, and Margaret Welch, 18, of Peterborough, sustained minor injuries. Eileen Martayan, 18, has been admitted to Minden General Hospital and has been treated for major injuries.

Damage to Muirhead's car has been estimated at $5,000 damage.

A 23-year-old Minden man escaped injury when the Harley Davidson motorcycle he was driving caught fire and was completely destroyed, Sunday afternoon.

William Little told police that the motorcycle had fallen to its side while being ridden and as he picked it up, the machine caught fire and was totally destroyed.

Damage estimated to Little's motorcycle was estimated at $4,300.

An Odessa man has been charged with failing to report a collision forthwith after the vehicle he was driving rolled onto its roof into a ditch.

Christopher Jones, 18, was eastbound on Harcourt Park Road last Monday morning, when he lost control of the car which turned backwards and rolled on its roof into a ditch. Jones' car sustained $2,500 damage.

A 22-year-old Toronto man escaped with minor injuries after his vehicle struck some guide posts and entered a ditch, last Monday night.

Mark Lennox, of Toronto, has been charged with careless driving after his westbound car struck a number of guide posts on the north shoulder of Highway 121. The car then entered the south ditch.

The Lennox car sustained $1,000 damage.

A 21-year-old Huntsville man's car struck a tree a week ago Sunday after he lost control of the vehicle and it skidded off the road.

Joseph Lavoie said his vehicle was southbound on County Road #12 when the accident occurred.

A similar accident occurred Friday night when a Don Mills man lost control of his car on a curve and struck a tree.

Terrance Leonard, 23, slid into the south ditch after losing control of the vehicle. Damage to his car was estimated at $1,000.

Stanhope council declares seat of late Napier Simpson vacant

Stanhope Township council officially declared the seat of the late Napier Simpson vacant last week, though council has not yet decided whether the seat will be filled for the remainder of council's term.

Simpson was killed June 23 in the crash of a light plane in Newfoundland. He was there for the unveiling of an historic plaque at the site of 12th century Viking landings on Canada's east coast.

Under the rules of the Ontario Municipal Act, council does not have to fill the seat if a vacancy occurs in the last six months of council's term. Municipal elections will be held in November, ending councils two year term.

Stanhope reeve, Sinc Nesbitt, said Monday that it was "hard to say" whether a replacement would be named to bring council back to full strength. "We haven't made a decision as to whether we'll fill the spot".

Council is expected to make a final decision on the matter later this month.

Art Ward seen on area TV program

People in the tourist industry have to make sure they keep their smiles "up front", according to Art Ward, vice chairman of Tourism Ontario and owner of Wig-a-Mog resort on Lake Kashagawigamog.

He made the comment during an interview on CHEX TV Peterborough's Summer Scene program, Friday afternoon.

Main topic of the interview was the Ministry of Industry and Tourism's "We Treat you Royally" campaign. Tourism Ontario, Ward said, "is pleased with the way the program has gotten off the mark."

"We're all behind this program 100 per cent", he said.

Tourism Ontario is an organization which acts as spokesman for the tourist industry in dealings with the government, Ward explained. It draws its membership from nine other tourism related organizations across the province.

Tourism generated more than $4 billion in Ontario last year, Ward said, but "those figures are direct spending. That doesn't include spinoff dollars", dollars spent by tourists for goods and services in the areas they visit. The main benefit of the province-wide campaign to treat visitors royally, Ward said, is that it will give resort, hotel, motel, and restaurant owners, as well as business people, a chance to work together on a common cause. Before the program "we really didn't have a common denominator".

Tourists today are demanding more, Ward confirmed, but they can also find everything they need within the province. "I think we've got excellent facilities" in Ontario, he said. Those in the tourism industry must still work toward improving what they have to offer, however.

"We can't stand still. We have to continue to improve our resorts, hotels, motels and restaurants."

The fall of the Canadian dollar was another topic on which Ward touched briefly during the interview. "It's definitely having an effect" he said.

"We've seen a marked increase in our visitors from the United States, and we're hoping that trend will continue throughout the summer."

"We've got a lot going for us", Ward concluded. "We've just got to make sure that we keep our smiles up front".

Art Ward, vice chairman of Tourism Ontario, was interviewed on CHEX T.V. Peterborough, Friday. Ward said Tourism Ontario was pleased with initial response to the government's "We treat you Royally" campaign.

How to be a cool customer this summer.

Be as cool as a cucumber.

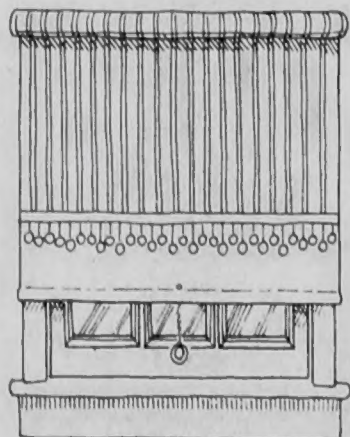

Fruits and salads are cool and refreshing. And when you stay away from the oven to prepare meals, you also stay cooler and save electricity.

Keep it light and breezy. It's cool to wear lighter clothes with lighter colours. It's also cool

Use your air conditioner wisely. Make sure it fits tightly in the window. Keep your doors and windows closed. Clean the filters regularly. If you leave your house for part of the day, cut back the air conditioning. Going on vacation? Turn it off completely.

If your clothes dryer is vented outdoors. Heat and moisture won't be released in your home. Better still, hang your clothes outside to dry.

Keep your blinds down. Keeping your blinds down or drapes drawn on the sunny side has some cold logic to it. The heat of the sun is shut out while the coolness is kept in. At night, keep lights to a minimum. It's cooler and saves electricity.

Drink up. Ah, there's nothing like a tall, cool, refreshing drink to make things cooler. But remember when the refrigerator door is left open, valuable energy escapes.

Norm Sisco opened show Friday night

Fine Arts sale is drawing crowds

Nila Reynolds
'Bigger and better!' was the comment most often heard at the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts' 16th juried Summer Exhibition and Sale. Beginning at 7:30 P.M., July 7, this year's event attracted record crowds to the auditorium of the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary Public School. Here former Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary Public School Principal, Norman Sisco, introduced by Guild Director Ron Curry, declared the show officially open.

Welcoming visitors to the air-conditioned auditorium was the Haliburton Pipe Band and the Haliburton Highlands Pipe Band and the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts Choral Society, directed by Marilyn Stouffer, entertained with 'No Man Is An Island,' 'Edelweiss,' 'Matchmaker,' and 'This Land,' during the opening exercises. Thaning Mr. Sisco was Exhibition Convener Marie Wallace, who outlined forthcoming Guild events for the audience.

Judges Ron Roy of Rodaco Clay; Art Instructor Jack Reid of the Haliburton School of Fine Arts and veteran exhibition Convener Thilde Nevitt selected the scholarship winners from among more than 90 exhibitors. Presenting the prizes were Guild president Barbara Peel and director Thilde Nevitt.

For the first time a very successful combination Preview Sale and Champagne Buffet (sponsored by the recently formed Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts Visual and Performing Arts Committee), with 40 couples attending, was held at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Donald Finn, July 6 at 6:30 p.m. Proceeds will be used to finance musical events, travelling exhibitions, special theatre and craft events.

Convening this year's exhibition, which runs until July 18, is Marie Wallace, enthusiastically assisted by co-convenors Barbara Peel, Nancy Hubbert, Judy Chapman, Marion Elstone and Mary Doey, plus generous volunteers from almost every community within Haliburton County who staff the show for two weeks.

Lively demonstrations are available to educate and entertain as quilters, potters, spinners, weavers, silversmiths rug hookers and chair caners practise their skills. Colourful flower arrangements throughout the exhibition are courtesy of the Minden and District Horticultural Society.

For those wishing to further their own education in arts and crafts there is a special display of related books from Guild of Fine Arts' ever-growing library. Teachers from the Haliburton School of Fine Arts exhibiting this year are: Ann Suzuki; Sam Moligan; Mary Wallace; Elva Hasselfeldt; Alan Perkins; Don Stuart; Paul Williams; Judith Tink; Erika Reisenberger; Bill Hodge; Cassandra Wyszowski; Jack Reid; Murray Stewart.

Scholarship winners this year were: Weaving: First, Wendy Bateman; Second, Judy Chapman. Quilting: First, Dorothy Challice; Second, Betty Hamer. Leather: First Nancy Hubbert; Painting: First, Robert VanNood; First, Audrey Grant; Second, Jack Hamer. Sculpture: Second R. Moddie. Photography: First and Second, Court Noxon. Open class to be decided Saturday

Fiddle contest goes this weekend

The curling club in Haliburton will reverberate to the notes of old time fiddle music and the clicking of step dancers' feet this weekend at the second annual Haliburton Legion Fiddle and Step Dancing contest. More than 30 fiddlers and dancers from Ontario and Quebec had submitted their entries by Monday, and contest chairman Harold Bannon said many more entries are expected to come in before the contest gets underway Friday evening.

Last year's event, the first for Haliburton village, was a one day contest that proved so successful it has been expanded to two days this year. Step dancers as young as eight years old and as old as 70 or more will be on hand, as will several champion fiddlers from across Ontario. The event begins Friday night with fiddlers and dancers competing from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. More competition and entertainment is slated to take place Saturday afternoon, with the finals in the open class topping the event Saturday night. 13 trophies have been donated by area businesses and individuals, and prizes in each of the step dancing and fiddling categories will be presented Saturday night. Winners in each of the six classes of fiddling and dancing will receive $75 and trophy, with second place worth $50 and third place bringing $30.

In the open class fiddling, first prize winner will receive $100, second $75, third $50, and fourth $25.

In addition, the county has donated a prize to be given for the top fiddler in the county. Each municipality is expected to have an entry, and the competition should prove a real crowd pleaser.

The inside of the curling club will be decorated for the event, and chairman Harold Bannon said he is hoping for a good turnout.

Eight trailer sites have already been filled in the municipal lot adjoining the curling club, and more are expected to be filled before the weekend.

All proceeds from the event will go to the Legion building fund.

Haliburton man is charged by OPP with selling liquor

A Haliburton man has been charged with unlawfully selling liquor and unlawfully keeping liquor for sale after Minden OPP personnel assisted members of the OPP Special Investigations Branch from Toronto in an investigation.

Erick Witzki, 49, was charged with selling the liquor Sunday night when policemen from the branch made a false 'purchase'. A search was carried out in a taxi-stand in Haliburton and a quantity of liquor was found.

Constable Potter of the Minden detachment, who was the investigating officer, said that 'we had known where the liquor was being sold from and people who had been purchasing it told us who it was, so that made it easy.'

The selling was 'getting quite common,' said Potter, 'and he wasn't very selective in who he sold it to.'

He said he plans to continue the office hours 'every Monday night as long as there is a response'.

People wishing to see the reeve Monday nights can make an appointment by calling the Dysart et al municipal office.

Stinson said Monday that business associations like the one in Minden and the one that may soon be formed in Haliburton would complement each other, and would also work in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce for the betterment of the business community in both villages, and in the county at large.

Office hours work—reeve

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey said Monday that his efforts to have open office hours to hear complaints and questions from ratepayers met with a 'pretty good response' when it was tried for the first time Monday night.

New park will be an asset

The residents of Haliburton village and the surrounding area will once again be asked to dig deeply into their pockets in the near future to finance a portion of the construction costs of the proposed municipal park in Haliburton. The park, which can be completed at an estimated cost of $375,000 will be built over a number of years, a plan that should make it easier for the public sector to come up with the money it must contribute. The sacrifice people will have to make to help fund the project is certain to be worth the effort.

The plan, developed by Campfens Greer Galloway and Associates is an ambitious one. It calls for an expansion of the tennis courts at Rotary Park, construction of a change house, an amphitheatre and bandshell, fountains, a creative play area, a boardwalk, viewing station like a ship's crow's nest, and several other attractions, including extensive landscaping.

Some of the public sector funding has already been committed through an endowment from one of Haliburton's citizens. The rest will have to be raised by various projects through the community's service clubs, and through individual contributions.

There is no doubt that the people of Haliburton, and hundreds of other small communities for that matter, are reaching the saturation point with voluntary contributions. There is always some worthy cause seeking funding, whether through lottery tickets on cars and trips, sales of various kinds, or through simple requests for cash donations. And while it would be impossible to say that one cause is more deserving than another, it is certain that projects which make a definite contribution to the life of a community are worthy of support. The new park project is one of them.

The park will not only be an asset to the people of Haliburton and the surrounding area. It will be an attraction that will induce people to remain for a longer time in the village itself. And that will be good for business.

The municipality intends to hold a public meeting in the village at which people will have an opportunity to view a model of the park and to make recommendations for changes or deletions. It's a meeting that every citizen should plan to attend.

The park will be costly, though more than half of the total amount will come from Wintario grants. The people of the community will have to pledge support for the project if it is to be completed.

Any sacrifices citizens make however, are certain to be well rewarded in the finished park.

Willing workers behind the scenes

Summer is a time for getting together with people, a time for getting out and doing things. In Haliburton County, summer comes alive each year in large measure through the efforts of a growing number of volunteers. These are the people who work for weeks and months to prepare the numerous activities that take place in the county's communities throughout July and August. They are people who perform an invaluable service for tourists, summer residents and permanent residents alike.

The list of activities they help make possible is a long one. Currently, the Guild of Fine Arts Show at Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School is drawing large crowds. The show features an excellent display of crafts and artwork, and it brings people from far and near, helping to put Haliburton on the map.

The next two weeks will also see such activities taking place as the Legion Fiddle and Step dancing contest, the Legion parade and carnival, the Harcourt Fun Fair and baseball tournament, and the Wilberforce Country Goodtimes weekend.

All of these activities are only possible because some people are willing to take on the difficult and often frustrating task of organizing them.

Activities taking place in the county throughout the summer bring people together. They foster a sense of community and promote friendliness among tourists and year round citizens alike. That friendliness is good for everyone.

There are no doubt times when the people who work to organize and promote various activities feel like the reward doesn't justify the effort. Few of them do it for recognition, and most seek to stay out of the limelight whenever they can.

Yet their efforts should be appreciated by the thousands who attend and enjoy the summer's activities throughout the county.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a letter sent to the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum Committee by the director of the Disability Resource Centre at St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough:

Dear Sir:

The Disability Resource Centre is located in the Rehabilitation Unit of St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough and the Five County Area.

Our aim is to assist the Physically Disabled Adults with the many problems they face in their daily living and also provides advocacy to alleviate much of the red tape they encounter in obtaining their needs.

Education, transportation, culture, and recreation, and an accessible community are necessary components in rehabilitation, thus enabling them to take their rightful place in the community.

We note a new museum is being built in Haliburton and hope you are planning a building that will be accessible for the handicapped and senior citizens. Accessibility for these people involves:

1. Ramped entrances with railings.
2. Wheelchair washrooms.
3. Ample space for maneuvering a wheelchair around a type of floor surface on which a wheelchair can move easily - re low pile rug or non slippery tile.
5. All displays exhibited on one level that is easily accessible.
6. Rest areas for those with walking disabilities.

We are pleased that Haliburton is adding this new museum and would like to see all citizens be able to enjoy it. However, we realize that the average person does not consider how architectural barriers deny many people the opportunity to enjoy new experiences within their community.

By way of this letter we offer our assistance in order that this museum will be accessible to all residents and visitors to the beautiful Haliburton Highlands.

Yours truly,

(Miss) Loretta Meagher,
Director, Disability Resource Centre

I grew up in a motorized age, though at 26 I'm just old enough to have a few vague memories of milk and bread wagons that were pulled by horses. It was always an event to visit my grandmother and grandfather when I was very young, not only because I could do pretty much whatever I wanted, but because the small city where they lived clung to tradition a little longer than most. That meant that until I was five or six, a milkman or a bread man and his horse would pull up outside the front door of my grandparents house six days a week. There was always a lump or two of sugar reserved for the horse, and it was a special treat to be able to give it to him. They seemed huge to me then, and I remember the cool wetness of the horse's lips as it took the sugar from my outstretched hand.

I remember too, the simple stare of the horses eyes, and the way it would move on from one house to the next without a word from the milkman, knowing the route as well as its human master.

But horses were replaced by trucks before I was much older than six, and horses then became animals in fields, glimpsed briefly from the window of a moving car. I was, and still am to some extent, a city person, removed from the rural life where horses were an important part of daily routine.

And when I finally got a chance to live in a rural area, in Huron County, agribusiness that runs on massive tractors and eight furrow plows had been there long enough to make horses a rare thing.

It was the memories of the milkman's horse outside my grandmother's house that perked my interest when I found out last week that the Norland Firefighters were holding a horse pull Saturday.

I drove to the event with a good deal of anticipation, knowing that there would be beauty and strength in abundance. And I wasn't disappointed.

The horses were huge and powerful, with thickly muscle necks and broad backs, and their harness, decorated with silver and brass, sparkled in the sun. It was thrilling to watch the teamsters work, and to watch the excitement of the animals as they drew near the boat, loaded with thousands of pounds of concrete.

The horses came into the pulling area almost proudly, heads held high, neck muscles bulging and legs rising sharply with every step.

They lined up quietly, some munching grass and others just watching the crowds. They awaited the call to pull and when it came, the horses excitement built with the anticipation of the crowd.

When the clank of the harness hook into the stone boat came, the horses shot forward against the inertia of the boat, pounding the grassy field into clouds with their heavy shoes.

And though the horses were magnificent, the styles of the teamsters also held my attention. Some seemed as excited as their horses, pulling hard on the reins and yelling loudly at their teams. Others were calm, practiced and restrained. One method didn't seem to work any better than the other, but the quiet confidence of the older teamsters was satisfying to watch.

My stomach knotted each time the teams strained forward. I was sure they couldn't stand the effort, that something within them would snap. It didn't happen, and I found out later that it rarely, if ever, does. Like the tractors that plow most fields today, horses are machines designed to work, and they can only really be appreciated when they are hitched up and straining.

It's good that some men still care enough for the old ways to own and train pulling teams. Their hobby is a link with a way of life that people of my generation never knew. It would be a shame if that way of life disappeared altogether.

As long as the teamsters and their pulling horses remain, a little of the past remains too.

We who live here in Canada should feel mighty proud that we live in the best country in the world. Granted we are faced with problems such as unemployment and economical woes and several other issues that we have to deal with, but let's face the facts that many of the problems that are prevalent today are not only in Canada, they are worldwide. In this fast moving world the federal government and the provincial government can't seem to get one problem solved before they are faced with many more. It just seems like an ongoing thing. The dailies, TV and radio, keep feeding us every day with high unemployment figures, the state of the economy, and whether we like it or not, we have turned into a nation of kickers who are out to spread all the gloom and doom that is possible. We must realize that action must be taken on certain big problems and that unemployment will always be with us. We have to feel sorry for all those who want to work but can't find employment, but just think of the thousands who wouldn't take a job if it was handed to them on a silver platter at good wages. We have no sympathy for those who are willing to sit back and just draw unemployment insurance or welfare. It all boils down to this. Canadians have to get down to work. The honeymoon is over. Just think of what we have here in Canada in comparison with other countries around the world and count your many blessings.

We just learned today that Arnold McElwain who lived at Gelert for many years, and for the past several years lived in Lindsay, passed away in February. We always looked forward to meeting Arnold although it was just once a year when he would drop into The Echo office for a chat and to renew his subscription. He was in his 76th year.

Kay and John Rouble dropped into the office recently. It was great to see them back renewing old acquaintances. John was the former principal at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

It should give us all a great feeling to say that we are Canadians. We also should feel proud to be living in such a great nation. Canada Week has come and gone and most places in Canada went all out to celebrate this great occasion. It would seem that here in Haliburton County we couldn't care less. No one seemed to take the time to even celebrate by holding special events. We have to take our hats off to Kennedy Surplus & Exchange, on Maple Ave. in Haliburton, and its owners, Pat and Harold Kennedy, who did their part to make us all aware of the importance of celebrating Canada's birthday. One day during Canada Week, while walking to work, it made me feel mighty proud to see a brand new Canadian flag flying on top of their store and on the portable sign out front were the words, in large letters "HAPPY 111TH BIRTHDAY CANADA!" Let's all get on the ball next year and make an all out effort to celebrate Canada's birthday throughout the county.

Cleo Hodgson was in the office the other day and told us that she had just returned from a trip out west and had the opportunity of visiting with Mr. & Mrs. Rick Poole and family, in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Tom Kitchene, of Cleveland, Tennessee, will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Businessmen's Hyland Chapter hold their monthly meeting at the Haliburton High School this coming Saturday evening, starting at 7:30 p.m. Please note the change of location from Deer Lodge to the High School. Everyone is welcome and no admission will be charged. Tom has been called of God as a bible teacher and he travels throughout the United States ministering the Life from the Book of Life. He will be really worth hearing and you won't want to miss his stirring message. Also ministering in song will be the Lighthouse Singers from Peterborough, Ont.

Many people are asking the question "Are we going to be faced with low water levels in Haliburton County once again this summer?" Don't count it out, it could be a possibility. A friend of ours who has a cottage on Drag Lake told us last week that the water level in that lake is dropping at the rate of about one inch every day.

We understand that Chas. Yateman is trying to organize a Golf Tournament for the members of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129, Haliburton, for each month of the summer. This sounds like a real good idea.

Don't miss Harcourt's 7th Annual Baseball Tournament which will be held in Harcourt this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 14, 15 and 16. Teams entered in the tournament are from Minden, Fenelon Falls, Odessa, Oshawa, Mount Albert, London, Kingston, Harcourt Lumber Kings, two teams from Bancroft, two from Peterborough and two from Belleville. Games start Friday at 7:15 p.m. If you are not a ball fan there are plenty of other things to attract you such as Games of Chance, Log Sawing Contest, Bingo, Tug-O-War, Children's Games, Pony Rides, Home Cooked Meals, Snack Bar, Teen Dance on Friday evening, and an Adult Dance on Saturday night. A draw will be held Saturday midnight for a fabulous trip for two. You have your choice of going to Nassau, Spain, Caribbean, or Hawaii. It really looks like a big weekend in Harcourt. Why not drop over and join the fun.

The Ontario Government is pushing the Tourist Industry this year with plenty of advertising and their slogan is "Treat our Visitors Royally". We, in the Haliburton Highlands, where tourism is our main industry, should be going all out to see that our visitors are made to feel at home so that they will want to come back again.

You can hear evangelist Meryle Dolan with soloist Lloyd Knight, at the Kinmount Community Centre, from July 13 to July 16, at 7:45 nightly. It is being sponsored by Kinmount and Norland Baptist Churches.

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

In spite of the fact that conditions have been relatively dry for the last few weeks, water levels throughout most of the county are still being maintained at a fairly high level. Almost a year ago an angry group met at the Legion Hall in Haliburton to protest the extremely low water levels we were experiencing at that time. As a result of that meeting a committee was formed to deal with the various levels of government involved and try to reach solutions to the problem. The committee had representation from various cottagers associations in the county, members of effected municipalities, and the Chamber.

Through the efforts of this committee during the past year a much better spirit of co-operation has developed with the Trent-Severn Authority who control the water levels. It was agreed that the reservoir system could not be also effectively used as a flood control system which was what had been attempted in the past. Instead of only filling the lakes to 85 per cent of their capacity in the spring, to allow 15 per cent for flood control this year, they were filled to, or almost to capacity. That factor, along with more diligent control on the fluctuations since the spring, have resulted in the still present high water levels. Due to the fact that we are reservoir system we will still experience a lowering of the levels by fall, but hopefully never again as drastic as was experienced this last year.

Unfortunately, all solutions do not please all people. One resort operator called to complain that the high water levels had decreased the amount of beach he normally had at this time of year, and was insisting that they be lowered. If they are lowered now and the summer continues to be dry, there is now way of getting that water back in August when we will need it. We must face one very definite fact, and that is that we are reservoir system for the Trent, and as such we will always have some fluctuations in our water levels. The most we can hope to do is minimize the effect for the majority of the people on the lake system. A bit of inconvenience for a few at this time will probably create much better conditions for everyone later in the season.

Guild Sale and Exhibition Continues

At the Haliburton Senior Elementary School the 16th Annual Summer Exhibition & Sale of Arts and Crafts, held by the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts, continues this week until Sunday. The Guild held a special buffet evening at the home of Don and Carole Finn, last Thursday, to raise funds for their gallery. Thanks is certainly in order to not only Don and Carole, for the use of their lovely home, but to all those who donated their time and food towards making this evening the success it was.

The Exhibition includes a fantastic array of crafts from throughout Ontario, and the talented members of the Guild from the Haliburton area need not take a back seat to any of them. There is no admission charge to the Exhibition and we can most definitely say there is something of interest there to virtually anyone.

Log Building Clinic

Gary Kenny, whose mail order house, The Blairhampton Alternative, is one of the largest sources of supply for log cabin building equipment is presently operating a school at Haliburton Forest and Wildlife. Participants in the course are constructing a beautiful log building at the base camp, from timbers obtained right on the property. The building will serve as a recreation hall when it's completed. If you ever thought of getting back to basics and building something from logs, it would be well worth your while to drop in and see what they are up to at the Haliburton Wildlife base camp.

New Members

Just south of Carnarvon, on Hwy. 35, we now have the Highlands Bait Store, operated by Petrol Misco. This new facility is a beehive of activity with all forms of live bait available as well as a fantastic variety of tackle. Divers will also be pleased to find they can get their oxygen tanks refilled at this location. Petrol tells us he intends to operate the store year round and specialize in hunting equipment in the fall and provide fish hut rentals in the winter. We heartily welcome this new facility.

Between Tory Hill and Wilberforce, Camp Brigadoon was operated for many years by a Dr. Ballard. For health reasons Dr. Ballard is now no longer able to carry on the camp nor her medical practice, but during the summer is operating Brigadoon as a quaint country restaurant that is well worth the visit, in addition the Heather House Gifts Shop, which is stocked with many very novel gift items and runs heavy to the Highlands and Scottish theme. Do take a drive and drop in and see her, we guarantee you'll find something in her gift shop that you've never seen anywhere else.

Muskoka Boat Tours are now members of the Chamber and they operate two boat tours right on the edge of our county. The Britannia operates on Lake of Bays and will take the public on tours every

Many of our older residents will remember Rev. Stringer who came from England to Canada in 1908. Rev. Stringer was the minister who helped to build St. Andrews Church at West Guilford. He later came to St. George's Church at Haliburton and when the church burned down he, along with many others, helped to rebuild it. Our thanks to Allan Sisson of R.R. 1, Haliburton for submitting this photo.

Canadians, on the whole, are probably the most boring conversationalists in the entire world. I don't say that idly, merely to put backs up. I say it from agonizing personal experience.

It's not because we are a dull people, though we are. It's not because we're stupid, because we aren't. It seems to be based rather on a sort of philistinism that labels interesting conversation as a "cissy" pastime, fit only for dilettantes, idealists, Englishmen of a certain background, educated Europeans and other such intellectual trash.

Next time you're at a dinner party or any similar gathering, lend an ear. The dialogue will depress you deeply.

Perhaps the real fault lies in the fact that we are basically a nation of materialists, and that we have become more and more so, with the withering of the churches and the increasing affluence of our society.

Our topics of conversation change with the decades, but remain awesomely inane in their content.

A few decades ago, men could talk for hours about cars and hockey, while women chattered incessantly about children and recipes.

Nowadays, the men talk about real estate and boats, and women go on and on about Women's Lib and the trip abroad they have just taken or are about to take. And they all say the same thing, or near enough.

All of them, especially the men, are absorbed by their vocations, the sadistic cruelty of the revenue department, and their latest acquisition, whether it's a power cruiser or a swimming pool in the back yard.

Get a gaggle of editors together and they talk shop.

golf, and how much advertising linage they carried last year. Seldom a word about a powerful editorial campaign they are going to launch to halt an evil or promote a good.

Dig up a deliberation of doctors, put a glass in each hand and listen to the drivel about the inequities of medicine, the ingratitude of patients, the penal taxes they pay, and the condominium they just bought down south. Not a Best nor a Banting in the bunch.

Lawyers are just as bad. They may be a bit more sophisticated than the doctors, but they're just as dull. Dropping hints of inside dope on politics. Obsessed by the possibility of getting a judgeship or at the very least, a Q.C. Criers of the blues about the taxes they pay.

A party of politicians is even worse. Jostling for attention, back-slapping everything that is warm and breathing, needing the enemy, seeing everything in black and white. "They're black; we're white." Joe Clark likes westerns on TV. It figures. The big shoot-out, and let the bodies of bystanders fall where they may.

Behind the politicians, but not far, are the civil servants. Empire builders, defenders of the status quo. Everything in quadruplicate. Everything secret. The public is the enemy. Always go through channels. Keep your nose clean. Don't get a black mark on your record. Dull, dull.

Ah, ha! The farmers have been sitting back enjoying this. They're every bit as bad as the rest. It's the government's fault. It's the chain stores' greed. It's the fickle public. It's the weather: too hot, too cold, too dry, too wet; or, if the weather is perfect and the crops are superb, it's taking too much out of the land.

Business men are just as culpable of devastating dullness in their conversation. Too many forms to fill out. Lazy clerks. Second-rate workmen. Those dam' shopping plazas on the edge of town.

Manufacturers are in the same boat. Wages are too high. Can't get parts, what's the matter with those people? Too much absenteeism on Monday morning. Profit down .03 per cent last year. Can't compete with those lousy foreigners who work for peanuts. Too much government interference.

Dentists ditto. They are just as dull as the others, but they commit the crime of asking a particularly dull question when your mouth is so full of junk that all you can do is grunt, and then think you are interested and agreeing with their platitudes, when what you are trying to say is, "Shut up, turkey."

As you know, I always save the best to the last. When it comes to dullness supreme in conversation, I have to hand it to the teachers. They go on and on and on about some kid who just won't do his homework, or some meaningless memo from the office, or some student who decided to spend a nice June day in God's great out-of-doors instead of in a dull classroom with a dull teacher.

Maybe I've been harsh in this somewhat blanket condemnation. Certainly none of my friends are dull conversationalists. Maybe that's why I have so few friends.

Or perhaps my remarks are based on pure envy. I haven't got a condominium in Florida. I haven't even a rowboat, let alone a cruiser. I haven't a two-car garage, though I have two cars, eighteen years old between them.

That's it. Jealousy. I don't have a swimming pool or a little place - just forty acres, mind you - in the country. My wife is as near to nuts as can be. One kid is a missionary in Paraguay, the other can't get a job.

That's why I can't stand around with the doctors and lawyers, etc. and commiserate with them on the fact that the price of steak is going absolutely out of reach of the ordinary professional man making only forty-five thousand a year.

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

Intended for last week

The Ontario Legislature has now recessed for the summer, and on the last day of the session the Minister of Industry and Tourism told the House of certain negotiations which had been taking place concerning the location of a new $500 million plant of the Ford Motor Company. It seems that Ford had been offered some considerable financial incentive to locate the new plant in the United States, and the Canadian Government had recommended that an incentive be offered to persuade the company to locate in this country - an incentive to be financed jointly by the Federal Government and the Government of Ontario.

Apparently the Ford Company originally wanted $30 million and the Federal Government had expressed a willingness to pay three-quarters of that cost, provided the Government of Ontario paid one-quarter. However, the Ford Company increased the required amount to $75 million, and the Federal Government had now proposed that Ontario and Ottawa pay $37.5 million each.

As Liberal Leader, Stuart Smith, pointed out in a letter to the Prime Minister, "The economy of Ontario and of Canada is heavily dependent upon a healthy and modernized automobile industry and it is clear that we are in great need of this half-billion dollar facility which would create 2600 jobs. Furthermore, the fact that incentive arrangements have been offered by the Federal Government for a General Motors plant to locate in Quebec, is being well publicized in Ontario and it is felt only fair that the same terms of assistance be made available in this province where, even in many areas of southern Ontario unemployment is at least as high as it is in the Province of Quebec."

In background papers released by the Premier, it was indicated that one State had offered $115 million in incentives to an auto company, including new roads, traffic studies, a railway yard, rezoning and 20 years exemption from property taxes.

Outside the Legislature, Stuart Smith said Ontario should put up the $37.5 million to obtain the badly needed jobs, even though it is clear that the Ford Company is "blackmailing" the governments. "I don't believe the feds are being fair with us, and I don't believe the Ford Company is being fair with us. I regret we're being held up to ransom...but the (Ontario) Government is willing to dip its toe into the water (for $18.7 million), and it should go all the way." He believes that Ontario should accept the new cost-sharing arrangement "not because I agree with it, but simply because I fear Ford Motor Company would otherwise imminently decide to locate this vital plant in Ohio or Pennsylvania."

In its report, tabled recently in the Legislature, the Select Committee on Company Law recommended that introduction of a "modified" no fault car insurance system in Ontario, in the belief that such a system for both person injury and property damage could mean lower car insurance premiums.

The idea of a "pure" no fault system was rejected by the Committee, because it would eliminate the right of an accident victim to sue in the courts for compensation. Instead, the Committee recommended that an individual retain the right to sue for serious injury and disability - "Right now the minor whiplash case can go to court," said the Committee Chairman, Liberal MPP Jim Breithaupt. If the Committee's recommendation is accepted, a traffic victim would receive from his own insurance company a set amount of money depending on the exact nature of injury. This scale of injury benefits would, in principle, be similar to the method of injury award used by the Workmen's Compensation Board. However, if someone suffered a serious permanent disability, scarring or disfigurement, it would still be possible to sue the other party involved in the accident for additional damages. The Committee suggested that the most a person could win in court would be $100,000.

July 7, 1978

The debates on the estimates of the various Ministries tend to be overshadowed by day to day events in the Legislature. Shortly before the end of the session, the Estimates of the Ministry of Community and Social Services were under discussion, which involved a review of the past spending record of a Ministry which expects to spend this year about 9 per cent of the total government budget.

Since 1974, my colleagues and I have been urging the Government to rationalize 'quality and care' and public funding of the Province's social services, and we are particularly concerned about changes in administration policy, especially as they relate to attempts to reorganize this Ministry into units which consolidate services to the children and adults of Ontario. We are pleased to note that some positive steps are finally being taken to reassess and revamp areas of this Ministry's responsibilities.

However, information which is now available has raised some questions about the Ministry's commitment to the prevention of child abuse in Ontario. As was pointed out during the Estimates debate, originally the Ministerial briefing material contained no specific figures for the child abuse program, but it was subsequently learned that last year only $182,900 was spent of the $376,000 designated for this purpose. The Child Abuse Office continues to be seriously under-staffed, yet it has not been exempted from the Ministry's hiring freeze.

Child abuse in Ontario has become a question of increasing public concern, yet we cannot realistically expect the Ministry's program to be any more effective this year than last, given the lack of emphasis which is apparent in this non-utilization of available funds, and the inadequate number of personnel allocated to the prevention program.

In 1965, provincial legislation imposed on Children's Aid Societies the responsibility of preventing suffering before it could turn into tragedy. Since that date, these societies have been increasingly conscious of this special and important responsibility. Yet heavy caseloads have not been matched by provincial grants. For a number of societies, this has meant that some front-line case-workers must take up to 50 cases at one time. As a result, only emergency situations receive attention. Files must be closed on other cases which have passed out of the crisis stage, although the circumstances are still potentially explosive.

There has been considerable publicity about the Ministry's move towards "de-institutionalization" yet this has virtually no hope of getting off the ground as long as the Government continues to under-fund home support services for the elderly, the disabled, the mentally retarded, troubled children and adults.

The concept of "deinstitutionalization" is excellent, conjuring up notions of individualism, independence and new lifestyles which are preferable because they are more "normal"; thus society as a whole can more easily recognize and respond to the needs of those who require

A basic guide to the Who, What, Where, When and Why of Shopping Canadian.

Why should you Shop Canadian?

Every time you buy something made in Canada, you help keep a Canadian working. You help keep Canadian money inside Canada. You help to expand and strengthen Canada's economy.

When you think about it, you help yourself.

When should you Shop Canadian?

Whenever you're satisfied that the product or service you need is:

- (A) made or grown in Canada and
- (B) of equal or better value and quality.

That's not just good advice...it's good sense.

MADE IN CANADA
FABRIQUÉ AU CANADA

What is made in Canada?

Just about everything you need to help you live the life you want.

As the saying goes, we have no bananas, but we do have Apples, Bandages, Cranes, Drills, Elevators, Furniture, Glassware, Holiday resorts, Insulation, Jewellery, Kitchen appliances, Lumber, Machinery, Newspapers, Office equipment, Potatoes, Quilts, Rope, Steel, Tires, Umbrellas, Vaccines, Wines, X-Ray equipment, Yarns, and Zippers.

Everything, in other words, from A to Z.

Who should Shop Canadian?

Every day, most of us have the choice. Whether we're buying groceries for the home or supplies for business, farm or industry.

If each of us added only $10 a week to Canadian made purchases, Canada would be over 10 billion dollars better off in just one year.

Who should Shop Canadian?

You should.

Where does it say Made in Canada?

Sometimes it doesn't. Sometimes a sign says "Produce of P.E.I." or "B.C. Apples" or "Fabrique au Quebec" or "Made in Manitoba" or "New Brunswick Sardines" or "Grown by Syskatehwan Farmers" or "A product of Alberta" or "Fresh from Newfoundland" or "Manufactured in Ontario" or "Nova Scotia Lobster".

The point is, if you take the trouble to find out, you can usually tell.

And, if it's made anywhere in the ten Provinces or Territories, it is made in Canada.

This ad was made in Canada. Making this ad employed (for a period of time) a writer, an art director, an account executive, a media buyer, a media planner, a typesetter, an engraver, a platemaker, a traffic operator, several switchboard operators, various mailmen, shippers and secretaries, publication reps, publication make-up people, not to mention all their various suppliers.

Everyone of these people lives and works in Canada.

Molson's big fish contest

Out of province anglers hold down top positions

Out of the province anglers currently hold down top spot in four separate categories of the annual Molson's big fish contest operated by the Ontario Federation of Hunters and Anglers. Ontario residents lead three categories, while two others, large mouth bass and salmon, have no entries as yet.

Biggest fish of the contest so far is a lake trout that strained the scales at 40 pounds, nine and a half ounces. It was caught in Lake of the Woods near Kenora by Ted Vardalas of Winnipeg. The top 15 entries in each of the nine categories win cash prizes and all entries over specified weights earn honour certificates. So far, most categories have few entries, organizers say.

Only one smallmouth bass has been entered weighing five pounds, 12 ounces. Top Maskinonge so far is 38 pounds, while the biggest northern pike is 25 pounds, eight ounces.

Top walleye so far came in at 15 pounds three ounces, and the biggest brook trout was seven pounds, three and a half ounces.

The biggest rainbow trout entered so far weighed just slightly more than 20 pounds. Ontario residents lead the maskinonge, brook trout and rainbow trout categories.

Contest administrators say many fish which would be eligible for cash prizes have not been entered. $4,500 is available in prize money in the contest. Fish caught up to November 30 of this year are eligible.

Entry forms are available at lodges, fishing and tackle shops, or from the Ontario Federation of Hunters and Anglers, Box 28, Peterborough.

Cliff Fearley displays a largemouth bass he caught in Barnum Lake last Tuesday night. The fish weighed 5 lbs. 12 oz.

Former Soviet coach to lead workshops

Gymnastics to be taught

Plans to operate a camp for girls, at a local lodge, through the Oshawa Gemini Gymnastics Club, have been scrapped, according to club president, Wayne Hussey, but the club is going ahead with plans to hold two, two week workshops at Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School, in August. The change in plans means up to 100 local youngsters will have an opportunity to learn gymnastics under the direction of former Soviet coach, Leonid Grakovsky.

Grakovsky, a former Soviet competitor and a coach with 20 years experience, left Russia in August of last year, spent three months in Italy, and then came to Canada when he was offered the full time job of head coach for the Oshawa Gemini Club.

Hussey said last week that the club advertised the proposed camp throughout Ontario, but that only 13 girls indicated an interest.

"We felt that it wouldn't be suitable for a camp to try to operate with that number", Hussey said.

The 13 girls may still attend the daily sessions at the school, but they will stay in area cottages rather than in a group at a lodge.

Local youngsters will be taught the basics in all four women's gymnastics events, balance beam, floor exercises, uneven parallel bars, and vault.

Groups will be set up in classes according to ability and age, Hussey said, and experience in gymnastics is not necessary. There will be one coach for every seven youngsters, with Grakovsky acting as head coach.

"They'll be stressing the basics", Hussey said. "We will take the girls through any moves they're capable of".

The hard work will be tempered with fun, Hussey said. The girls will play gym games for a break from training on the apparatus. Sessions will be divided into morning and afternoon groups to accommodate a large number of youngsters while still giving individual attention to each participant.

Registration for each of the sessions takes place at the Senior Elementary School, this Saturday, from 9 a.m. to noon. Cost is $65.

The Oshawa Gemini Gymnastic Club has been operating since June of last year, Hussey said. It came about through the amalgamation of the Oshawa and Gemini Clubs. The club has some 20 coaches and a membership of 50 youngsters, 25 of whom are in a competitive group that trains 15 hours a week. Last year the club placed four youngsters in the provincial meet in Cambridge, two of whom finished first overall.

Both two week sessions in Haliburton will be closed to the public, including parents, except for the final Saturday of each session, August 19 and September 2, when the public will be invited to watch the girls in action.

Nominations to be accepted

Nominations for the Garcia Canadian fishing hall of fame will be accepted until August 1 according to a release issued by the hall last week.

Selections will be made by a national board of judges, and those selected "join what could be the world's most elite assemblages of fishing greats", the release said.

Present members are the Rt. Hon. John G. Diefenbaker, salmon conservationists Jack Fenety and "Happy" Fraser, international gold medal casters Joe Phillips and Pete Edwards, renowned journalists Gregory Clark, Pete McGillen and Roderich Haig-Brown, and 19th century fish culturist, Samuel Wilmut.

Eligible are all past and present Canadian residents whose achievements have resulted in the preservation and improvement of Canada's sport fisheries, as well as those whose contributions and efforts have been directed toward improving the skills and enjoyment of Canada's millions of anglers.

Individuals and associations are invited to submit documented nominations to the hall of fame, 2440 Haines Road, Mississauga, Ontario L4Y 3W1.

Horse-draw standings

Nineteen teams of horses and their teamsters squared off in Norland Saturday for the annual Norland Firefighters horse pull. As many as six pulls were needed to determine winners in each of the three classes in the competition.

In the pony class, Larry Greer was the eventual winner, followed by the teams of Jim Chynoweth, Jr., second; Doug Ellery, third; Basil McGee, fourth; Ken Felford, fifth; Gerald Watt, sixth; and Jim Chynoweth Sr., seventh.

In the light horse class, Doug Coad managed to keep his frequently skittish team pulling together well enough to come out the eventual winner. He was followed by John Lawrenson, second; Jim Chynoweth, third; Jack Batty, fourth; Buck Graham, fifth; Bert McFeeters, sixth; Grant Quinn, seventh; and Holly Little, eighth.

In the heavy horse class, Ingram Wessel was first, followed by Joe McFeeters, second and Clarence Plumtree, who entered two teams in the heavy class, third and fourth.

The prize for the best dressed team, a bag of feed donated by the Cobocook Feed Mill, went to Ingram Wessel.

Peewee baseball

Minden dominates

The bats were swinging and the balls were flying during the last couple of weeks in the Pee-wee softball division.

On Wednesday, June 21, West Guilford came up with a win over Haliburton, beating them 31-14. Winning pitcher Barry Boice had a big game, batting in three runners in addition to pitching a super contest. Ronnie Upton of the winning team had a home run.

West Guilford kept the winning streak intact by defeating Stanhope by a score of 20 to 11 on June 27. Miles Hall batted a fine game, knocking out a home run and a triple.

Minden cleaned the ball diamond with the Gooderham club by coming up with a big score of 26 to 3. G. Newell, was the winning pitcher.

Kenny Warburton's bat was keeping busy in the game and he managed to gain three runs batted in.

July 5 saw Minden again blasting the opposition West Guilford by a score of 26 to 6. G. Newell, Collin Newelle and Jeff Stamp combined in that game for the victory.

Despite the great difference in score, Brain Morrison of the opposition hit in two runs for the losers.

In a fierce 'batters battle' Haliburton beat Stanhope that same night by a score of 42 to 23. Marion Smith was the winning pitcher.

In midget competition, Haliburton beat Snowdon by a score of 9 to 8 last week. Andy Salvatori pitched the winning game.

Future games in Pee-wee softball will be held July 12 when West Guilford visits Haliburton. Game time is at 6:30 p.m. so try to make it out.

Haliburton ladies come on strong, downs Carnarvon in Monday game

Monday evening saw Haliburton come up with 20 runs in one inning to defeat Carnarvon 31-17. Carnarvon made some costly errors and Haliburton took advantage of them, to move closer to the second place Carnarvon team. Nancy Maughan took the win while Belinda Vrown and Marg Darby took the loss.

Wednesday night Wilberforce defeated Gooderham and on Thursday night Minden Jrs. defeated Gooderham.

but the Carnarvon ladies came up with a strong game winning 17-10. Darlene Barnhart and Laurie Brown hit home runs for Carnarvon. Marg Darby took the win while Nancy Maughan took the loss.

Wednesday night Wilberforce defeated Gooderham and on Thursday night Minden Jrs. defeated Gooderham.

News from Extendicare

by Dr. O.W. Anderson

For us the week started Tuesday with Mrs. Miriam Lewis looking after activities for us instead of Mrs. Barbara Fryer. It was sort of nice to renew an old acquaintance and get into the old groove. First we picked up some shuffleboard wax, and marker paint with the masking tape to paint in the markings on the shuffleboard, after which we can play.

We have been asked to enter a float in the parade to mark the fiftieth anniversary of Branch 129 of the Royal Canadian Legion to be held July 19. On that day there will be entertainment galore, including a "fly past", various bands, parades, and cash prizes. It is going to be one good time and we are going to be part of it, and with a float.

A new flower for the most of us has come to our attention with much amazement, and that is the columbine with its very brilliant blue flower. Each of its flowers are no more than a quarter of the size of a blue petunia, yet each seems to exude the same amount of colour. We have only one plant in bloom with three pretty flowers yet, but we have many more columbines coming along. There are also quite a number of mignonette noted more for its pleasant scent than for an attractive flower. We have enough so that in a month there may be just a hint of its presence which is all we need. Our patio boxes are now in gorgeous bloom with blooms of many kinds. Even yet all are not flowering, as for instance there are still no flowering geraniums, the dahlias, the balsams have not come into blossom. It is amazing how it is possible for these plants to extract from the soil not only nutrition, but the materials needed to create such beauty and marvellous scents. Of course, they have been propagating for millions and millions of years and have become endowed with these properties, some for defence and some to enhance their ability to propagate. It is an amazing nature story.

Mrs. Mary Currah is back with us since Tuesday, apparently none the worse and claiming she had a very nice time. She is also back to pouring the tea or coffee, possibly as a means of greeting us at meals.

Pastor Glen Rosch, of the Full Gospel Lighthouse, was our spiritual leader to guide in our devotional period Friday morning. His gifted wife, Julie, accompanying our singing on piano. The theme of this service was Daniel, who, when we give it a thought, was a remarkable character. With great confidence and strength, Daniel was able to immobilize the lion's jaws and therefore the lion. It is one of the very great biblical stories, and like all stories, conveys a message that is the better told in that way. The after service meeting in the craft room, over tea and biscuits, was quite enjoyable.

It seems that patronage is the one dominant factor in winning an election. The recipient of bounty from a government, regardless of other factors; unemployment a dubious economy, etc., is strongly motivated to give his vote to that government.

Further to mention that some of our residents did not go to Rockton (African Safari country) because of insurance rules. It seems now that there is a concerted effort to change all that. Buildings will be planned to accommodate the severely handicapped, equipped with "wheel chair" washrooms. Buses will be built with "wheel chair" elevators and so on. It is interesting that this building was designed to accommodate the severely handicapped. The bus for transporting residents of Hyland Crest is similarly designed, as, of course, is their building. Couple celebrates 60th anniversary

The secret to a long marriage? Stay interested

The happy couple: The McLearns take a break at their home in Stanhope. "This is home to us, and we've been from Halifax to Vancouver."

Ask Olive and Karl McLearn's secret of staying together for over half a century and they'll tell you to get interested in things and in each other.

The Haliburton couple will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary on July 12, and the McLearns both feel that to them, being married all that time is really nothing extraordinary.

"We just outlived all the others", laughs Mrs. McLearn.

"I think that we just sort of live our lives from day to day and really don't give much thought about the whole thing", says Mr. McLearn, an active man who looks closer to 55 than his actual age of 80.

"Our general outlook on life is to live each day the way it comes. We try to help the other fellow and try to stay interested in many different things", stresses Mr. McLearn.

The couple travelled across Canada after Mr. McLearn retired as a chief dispatcher at the Belleville Railway Station. Before that, he worked as a telegrapher and train dispatcher in Ontario and in Saskatchewan during his many years with the railroad.

The two met when they were going to school in Algoma Mills, Ontario, but things did not blossom right away.

"We didn't really pay that much attention to each other at first," Mrs. McLearn says with a grin and a thoughtful glance at her husband. "He would come over to our house and go hunting with my brothers." But the two soon caught one another's eye and were married on July 12, 1918.

"We started moving around after that. I went out west after we were married and was on D.S.S.A. (Damn Small Salary and Abuse) he says with a chuckle. I'd hardly see the family. She had to raise the kids really while I was gone."

But, he adds, "there was more of a bond that you swore to then - the feeling that you couldn't go it alone. Somebody had to share the burden."

They feel the climbing divorce rate is sad and unfortunate and both would like to see today's couples become less "unsettled" than they are. The word "divorce" bothers them.

"It's a terrible thing, divorce is. It's very sad", says Mrs. McLearn.

"To me, any country has part of it built on families. But perhaps the general condition of things nowadays changes all that", admits Mr. McLearn.

He feels that many couples who are retired have "big ideas" of what they will do with the rest of their lives like "looking after their gardens. After three months, they sort of stop this and after six, they're seeing the doctor. The knife and fork will put you in the grave", he says, adding sadly that "they feel as if the bottom drops out after they become pensioners and wonder what in Sam hell they will do with themselves."

The McLearns stay busy by travelling throughout the country and with hobbies. It keeps them happy, they say, and contributes to their success of their marriage. The McLearns have a house in Stanhope Township which they return to every summer.

"This is home to us, and we've been from Halifax to Vancouver," says Mr. McLearn. And for all the time they've spent together, he admits that "we're nothing extra-special. We get along with others and each other, very well."

Dallyn Edward Pickens, son of Margaret and Dallyn Pickens of Gooderham, received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in History and Politics from Brock University, St. Catharines on June 2nd, 1978.

Donna Marie Trepanier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bernard Trepanier of Minden, received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing from the University of Toronto, on June 2nd, 1978. Donna is a former Haliburton Highlands Secondary School student.

Haliburton streets to be paved

Paving of Haliburton village streets which was originally scheduled to start this week is now expected to begin the week of July 24, reveal Murray Fearrey said Monday. Streets are already prepared for the paving, and it is expected that the work can be completed in about five days.

The repaving of highway

121 through the village and construction of new curbs and sidewalks will not be done this year, as had originally been planned, Fearrey said. The project has been rescheduled for next year by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. Reason for the delay is lack of funds, the MTC has informed council.

Gems of Truth

'The Misapplied Rule'

"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the Law and the Prophets" Matthew 7:12

No words that the Lord Jesus ever spoke are more often quoted by all kinds of people, nor are any others so often misquoted, misapplied, and misunderstood. The once-born natural man is prone to justify himself and eager to present a good moral picture of himself, so he frequently claims to be doing his best to 'live up to the Golden Rule'. These words of Jesus are the 'rule' to which men thus refer. Many people know no other Gospel and have no clear insight into the true means of salvation, thus their confidence lies in their own good works.

However, Jesus never said or even suggested that any person could be redeemed from the consequences of sin by honesty and fair dealings with his or her fellowmen. Sin is an offence against God and His holiness, so any merit one may acquire with human beings is outside the sphere of the remission of sin. Jesus said that the 'golden rule' he proscribed fulfilled the 'law' and the 'Prophets' but He never said it satisfied the demands of Divine justice or cancelled the debt of sin. Indeed Jesus did 'not' say that 'this rule' constituted a 'Gospel', or that it was any part of the true Gospel that He came to bring. 1 Cor. 15:1-4 So even if a unsaved person could live up to this requirement to the fullest extent they would still be lost, and would have to seek some means of grace to open Heaven's door to them.

The fact needs to be strongly emphasized that, far from being a means to salvation, the rule of life that Jesus mentioned sets up a 'standard' of conduct to which only twice-born people can truly conform to. So the truth of His words is that instead of finding redemption in doing this command, one must 'first' be saved to make it possible to obey it. This then leaves the natural man right where he started, alienated from God and without sufficient moral standing to justify himself by Godly works.

It is sometimes possible for goodly men after the flesh to do kind and noble things for those they love, but the words of Jesus demand this as a consistent standard toward 'all' men. Their is no option allowed the person who claims to live by His rule. This then is a first reason why only a born-again Christian can fully meet its demand. It is these that feel a sense of responsibility for all for whom Christ died and put forth effort to make His message of salvation known to the ends of the earth. If it were not for such the Christian message would have died long ago, but Christ keeps it alive by His twice-born people.

The Lord God has committed to all true believers the ministry of reconciliation. 2 Cor. 5:19. It is this company of messengers that is commissioned to entreat the population of the world that they become reconciled to God. How can we expect them to listen to our plea or yield to it if we deal with them in public or private in a manner which is contrary to the rule Jesus set forth? Any Christian who is selfish or self-centred, who seeks his own profit and advancement above or at the cost of another's best interest, is a living death blow to the true Gospel.

To live up to the 'standard' set forth by Jesus takes spirit filled and controlled lives. It is the standard of the Kingdom to come and will in due time be fully practiced. What a day that will be! At long last God's will is being done on earth as it is in Heaven. The true Church of to-day that holds the blessed truth of Christ's revelation in the heart, can apply the rule of life in our dealings with each other, thus giving the world a testimony by example which none can refute. It is not that we would be saved by doing so, but we would be proving conclusively that we are saved, for only such can truly fulfill the command Jesus gave. Being dead to self and alive in Christ is the key.

Harcourt gears up for ball tournament

The hamlet of Harcourt is gearing up for an invasion this weekend.

Repairing, grasscutting, painting, and general all round cleanup work has been going on recently in preparation for the hundreds of ball players and spectators who are expected to be on hand for this year's seventh annual Harcourt Fun Fair Baseball Tournament.

Action gets under way Friday at 7 p.m. and continues throughout the weekend with finals slated for Sunday. Teams are expected to come from as far away as London, Kingston, Belleville, Oshawa, Peterborough, Mount Albert, Fenelon Falls, West Eagle, Minden, Bancroft and of course, Harcourt. The community's own Lumberkings will be in the tournament supplying some of what is expected to be excellent industrial league competition.

The event in Harcourt has become so popular that a number of teams have had to be turned down this year due to a lack of available playing time.

Donna Burroughs, chairman of the Fun Fair and ball tournament said Monday that the event has been changed this year, with emphasis falling on the ball games rather than on other activities. In past years, she said, organizers have been unsuccessful in efforts to obtain a midway and other fair attractions, and people have been disappointed if they came expecting a small fair with rides and other amusements.

This year, the ball tournament will be the main event. Members of the Lumberkings team, along with tournament organizer Byron Bain and Lumberkings manager-coach Mac Gadoway have been working to get the local field in shape.

Local people will be out in force throughout the weekend preparing and serving food. Three home cooked meals will be served beginning with a roast beef dinner Saturday night in the local hall, a ham or bacon and eggs breakfast Sunday morning, and a cold plate dinner Sunday.

As well, a snackbar will operate from Friday through Sunday. A licensed beverage garden will also open over the weekend. Games of chance and a two hour bingo will also be featured Saturday.

A log sawing contest at 11 a.m. Saturday will test the skills of local lumbermen and others, with the ultimate test of strength off the baseball field coming at 2 p.m. Saturday, when as many as eight teams will square off for the annual tug-of-war. Last year's winners from Wilberforce will be on hand, as will teams from Maynooth, Harcourt, and from several of the visiting ball teams. The winning team gets a free roast beef dinner Saturday night, and will have its name engraved on a trophy which remains in Harcourt.

Friday evening's activities get under way at 7:15 p.m. when the first teams take to the field. A teen dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. with music supplied by 'Shift'.

An adult dance is planned for Saturday night, with music supplied by the 'Mystics'. The highlight of Saturday evening will be a draw for a trip for two to a destination of the winners' choice, with a value of up to $1200. Tickets for the draw will be on sale Friday and Saturday.

Admission to the ball games will be $1 a day.

A slide presentation and lecture was offered in the auditorium Tuesday evening, July 11th, by Paul Bennett, Executive Director of the Ontario Crafts Council and Editor Elizabeth Dingman. On Friday evening, July 14th at 8 p.m., Mrs. Ruth Gorrie will present scholarships to Haliburton County students whose work, now on display as part of the School Art Show, was judged worthy of special recognition. This annual event is one of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts' most rewarding programmes.

HALIBURTON IGA MARKET

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunders

No one will disagree, I'm sure, when I state that our summer weather has been very up and down temperature wise. As I write my column this hot humid Friday, July 7, the temperature is 32C (88F) on our thermometer on the north side of the house. On Saturday, July 1, less than a week ago, when we awakened at 7:00 a.m., the temperature was only 8C (46F) and our house was cool enough that I turned on the oil furnace for a few minutes to take away the chilliness. Certainly that cooler night time temperature does make for better sleeping, but I imagine that it is a little cool, even cold, in a tent in a camping area.

Three of our local young people are busy and perspiring these warm days digging up the old water line on the west side of Highway 35 in Norland, behind the Village Wool and Craft Shop, Keneta Grill, the Library and the Community Hall. Jim Brohm, Boyd Gill, and Bill Kreppner have been hired as part of the Young Canada Works Program that provides employment for students. Once the water line is uncovered by digging, it will be replaced with new plastic hose that will greatly improve the water pressure on that side of the highway. The old metal water line over the years has been plugged by a corrosion build-up and this has caused a smaller opening in the pipe and created low water pressure problems.

The Flea Market, July 1, at Highland Sports Centre, was a great success and an added attraction to the area. Jean Boyce has said that as long as an interest is shown, the Flea Market will continue to be there every Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m. If you would like to rent a table, call Jean at 454-8017.

Once again, the Shadow Lakes Junior Sailing Club is having lessons to teach novices, intermediates, and advanced sailors some of the fundamentals and fun of sailing and racing in Sunfish and Albacore sailboats. The classes are open to anyone from ages 8 to 18 years, but participants must be able to swim. Session 1 is July 3 to July 17 (inclusive) and Session 2 from July 31 to August 24 (inclusive). The fee is $25.00 per session, per person, or $65.00 maximum per family. The name of the game, at Shadow Lake, is to have fun and make some new and interesting friends. If you are interested, contact Michael Fricker, 454-3754 or Gordon Ewen, 454-8309. Happy sailing!

The annual meeting of the Shadow Lake Cottagers' Association will be held on Saturday, August 5, at 10:00 a.m., in the Norland Community Hall. This is the cottagers' opportunity to express concerns and suggestions to the executive so plan to attend. A reminder that the Cottagers' Association membership fee of $5.00 is now due. Secretary-treasurer is John Gilmour, 39 Plaxton Dr., Toronto M4B 2P6.

The Opportunity Shop, operated by the Norland U.C.W. had a very successful opening day on Tuesday, June 27 and will continue to be open each Tuesday and Saturday from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. until the Labour Day weekend. The shop is located beside Norland Marine on the east side of Highway 35, just south of Highway 503. Nearly new clothing and used articles, for home and cottage, are added to the shop twice a week, so plan to visit it soon and browse through the useful items.

There is Bingo every Monday evening during July and August, at 8:00 p.m. in the Norland Community Hall. $10.00 jackpot is won in 50 numbers, as well as other special games. Admission is $1.00 and extra cards are two for 25 cents. Refreshment booth is available for your convenience.

Our Norland Public Library has new summer hours during July and August: Tuesdays 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.; 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.; Thursdays 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.; 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.; Fridays 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.; and Saturdays 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. It is a wonderful opportunity for all to take advantage of the good reading material in our library. As of July 15, each Saturday morning from 11:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., all kindergarten to grade 3 aged children are invited to the library to share with Dale Davey her story and craft play time.

June was Red Cross Water Safety month. Their slogan was "Go Jump in the Lake - with Some Buddy. Yell to us for help on water safety regulations." This is good advice for every month of summer.

Chatting with Irene

Isn't it funny how fast the weather can change? Last week so hot and this week starting out a lot cooler. Even the grass could not take the heat and started to get real brown; but those two storms on Saturday past helped, even if they only hit the Minden area. They tell me that in the other parts there was only a shower, and rain was needed all over.

Miss Heather Yearwood of Lively has been visiting with her grandmother Mrs. Basil Hewitt for the past eight weeks; brother Greg was here for a week after school let out, but both have now joined their parents for a trip west.

How many saw the picture of the 'Clergy House' on T.V. Sunday evening? The program was 'This Land' and Mrs. Stan Blears gave a very interesting description of it. To me it is too bad that so many items of interest are shown during the summer only, because most T.V.'s get a rest then when people can stay outside or move around more.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Durant have their grandchildren Lisa Chornous and Kerri Durant, both of Toronto visiting with them.

Mr. & Mrs. Wayne Pankhurst, their family and some friends from Alliston visited with the Alan Brydsons on the holiday weekend, at Brydson's cottage on Buckside road.

A folding puppet stage can be borrowed free from the Haliburton County Library office. To find out the details phone 457-2241.

Mrs. Earl Hewitt & Mrs. Bud Marks attended the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Blair at Uxbridge last Saturday.

There is a nice spot on the other side of the bridge where people can swim, but last week a number of persons who wanted to cool off had to spend most of their time clearing the area of broken bottles in the water. This is another form of the vandalism which is affecting the county. There are lots of containers around, so why break the bottles and throw them in the river? Too many people have had cuts from this type of thing. Why do you not take pride in your town and county, instead of doing stupid things like that.

Mrs. Chris Lazier has returned to Mississauga with the John Bumisters and it is the hope of all her friends that when she comes back to her home she will be feeling much better.

The dance held last Saturday evening by the new library committee was a great success, at least everyone said so. There was lots to eat and the music was great. Winners of the spot dance were the Garth Kellets. Winners of the door prize were the Eldon Deacons. Winner of the Chinese auction was Don Blakey. Maybe there will be another; if there is do try to attend.

I really enjoyed reading the article 'A busy Lady in a busy hamlet' last week. Everything that Mrs. Maunders said was really true of all villages and towns. The more you do the more is expected of you. Keep on doing the column for the paper Barbara for at least it is fun, at least I find it so. One thing though if you have a lot to do, please do not move to a place any larger, for it is the same all over. Maybe I am a cynic but have found this to be true.

Mrs. Paul Besner & David of Kapuskasing are visiting with the Bud Stamps and Fern's mother Mrs. Irene Stamp for a few weeks.

Mrs. Lloyd Bradley & family of Dwight visited with Mrs. Ben Harrison on the week end.

Dr. & Mrs. Lodenquai and sons had a weeks holiday in the Niagara region. Dr. Holliday-Rhodes & family are settled in town; also Dr. Ivan Yee is here for the summer.

Attention Teen-agers, if you are interested there will be a dance at fair time just for you, but the concession committee need your help to get it rolling, so if you're interested please call 286-1591 or contact me.

Mr. & Mrs. Angus Coulter & Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coulter spent Sunday at Kirkfield with the Leslie Coulters.

Pte. Grant Porter is home on a months leave, which he is spending with his parents the Bill Porters; upon his return to the forces he will be stationed at Victoria B.C. for a time as the manoeuvres will take him to Alaska and other places.

A sale of used and discarded books will be held from July 24th to July 28th, at the Haliburton County Library Office. Time 9-5 each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan and Mrs. John Lidster left last week for a month's holiday in B.C. While there they hope to tour the province.

Remember that this Saturday is the date of the Annual U.C.W. Bazaar and Bake sale on the bank corner, starting at 10 a.m. At 12 noon there will be the draw for the Tete-a-Tete garden seat. The date is July 15.

Mrs. Beatrice Taylor of Stratford is visiting with Mr. & Mrs. G. Mann this week.

July 19 is the date of the United Church annual summer dinner, also bazaar. This will be at the church from 5 pm to 7 pm. Everyone welcome. Try to attend.

The Stafford Yearwoods of Nova Scotia have been visiting with Mr. & Mrs. Cecil this past week & Lou returned to N.S. with them for a week's holiday.

Want a wuikki meal--this is called Upside-Down Chili; 1 can 15oz (chili con carne with beans; 4 weiners; 1 pkg. (12 oz) corn bread mix spread chili in greased baking pan, slice weiners thin and place on top of chili; prepare corn bread mix as directed and spoon over top. Bake until done. Simple but so very tasty.

Mr. Ron Welch of Frankford spent part of his holidays with his mother Mrs. Edith Welch. Ron has been transferred to the Belleville office of hydro where he will be in charge of municipal accounts, out of that office. Congratulations Ron.

Mr. & Mrs. Len Lonsberry are away on holidays at present. The furniture store is running a contest at present and it will run for eight more weeks. Drop in and see Ted and Lillian Madill and find out what can be won. If you do not wish to enter you can give your votes to someone who has entered.

Mr. & Mrs. Mark Vasey visited in Midland with Mark's sister last week.

You gain some and lose some. Last week I heard that the Les. Prentices have sold their home and will be moving to Lindsay the middle of August. Don't forget us Les & Nina. Mrs. Lorne McCall.

The sympathy of the community is expressed here to Mr. Elmer Harrison and his family, in the loss of a dear wife, Ethel, and loving mother. Also, to the entire Harrison family and other relatives and friends, may we extend a similar message. May God bless all of them in their sorrow.

The John Dyers made a business trip to Oshawa this week, returning on Friday. On their return they were accompanied by their grandson, Glen Beevor, who plans to have a week's holiday with his grandparents. Mrs. Winnifred Johnson returns to Peterborough on Monday next to have a check-up after her eye operation, and to be fitted for new glasses.

On Saturday, July 1, Jim & Jean Fairfield were hosts to an anniversary party at their home. This occasion was to celebrate the 60th wedding anniversary of Olive and Karl McLearn, Jean's parents.

Guests came from Mississauga and Rexdale and a son and daughter-in-law from Moncton, N.B.

The happy couple received many beautiful and useful gifts and were served a delicious dinner by the hostess. May Mr. & Mrs. McLearn enjoy more happy anniversaries together.

On Saturday, July 15, the Ontario Regional Library Board will hold their meeting in the Stanhope Public Library. At the close of the morning meeting the board members will journey to St. Peter's Church hall, where they are being served a luncheon by the A.C.W. Ladies.

Stanhope history being compiled

The history of Stanhope Township is being compiled and written for library use by two women employed under the Ministry of Culture and Recreation's 'Experience '78' program.

Kim Goveat, 18 and Karen Wedman, 18, will be working in the township office, interviewing senior citizens in the area and going through various archives for eight weeks during the summer. Goveat is supervising the work.

They will be examining township records dating back to 1867, including census records, bylaws, council minutes, school board minutes and death records.

Their wages will be completely subsidized by the provincial government. Gerald Bain, Stanhope Township clerk, originally requested an additional student to help with the project when applying for the grant, but only two were made available.

Goveat says that the project "does entail quite a bit of research" and that there is a possibility of the two taking a trip to Toronto to examine the provincial archives there.

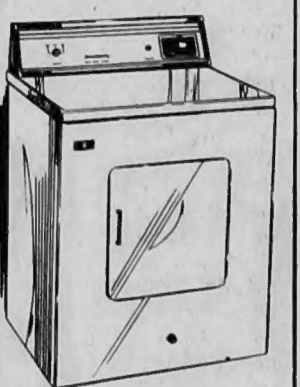

Over 30 applicants were screened for five positions under the program (the other three will be working in the various parks around the township, cleaning them up and improving landscapes.)

Goveat and Wedman both had to have experience in typing and a 'B' average in history and related subjects to get the jobs. Goveat has had previous experience working for the township last year and has done surveys for the recreational department.

The women will compile the history in manuscript form, which they hope will be published shortly after they finish the project, near the middle of August.

Coboconk News

by Sheila Lake

Elsie Weaver was the lucky winner of the double sized quilt in the recent Legion raffle.

Keep in mind the July 29 Smorgasbord being held at the Legion hall. Smorgasbord is served from 4-7 p.m. Price is $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for children, so come out and enjoy a real good meal.

Although the store has been open for a little while, "North's Decorating" held their official opening last weekend. Reeve, Laurie Barkwell, made the draw for lucky prizes. First prize, of a room sized carpet was Gladys Routley of Coboconk. Second prize of ceramic tile for a bathroom was won by Kathleen Taylor of Norland.

Mrs. Ann Nichol, operator of the local restaurant, is a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. Also in hospital is Chas. Bowins. Mrs. Milyard is still recovering in Ross Memorial Hospital, from a broken hip.

A public meeting was held in the community hall on Tuesday night, July 4, by the Recreation Association. The meeting was held to organize the formation of ball teams, and future football teams, etc.

The major sport considered at this time is softball. A real good attendance was there to offer support. George Shepherd welcomed all and chaired the evening. The committee on the recreation association, are Laurie Barkwell, Ted Garrells, Ruby Powell, Mary Wooton, George & Valerie Shepherd, Jim Hopkins, Ron Bell, Fred Jones, Ross Faulkner, Linda McDonald.

Those in the audience were asked to volunteer their services for coaches, sponsors, and players. This effort needs all the co-operation it can get and if the effort fails, blame yourself, not your neighbour.

Representatives from Norland were present to explain how their ball games, the competitions are handled, etc. Jim Hannivan and Wayne Downes are two who have offered to sponsor a team. The price of outfitting a team is in the neighbourhood of $110. Ron Tufts is already coaching a girls ball team and has his own sponsors, and the team has played a lot already. Equipment was purchased through Victoria Sports, by Ron's team. He has ten regular players and three spares.

Wally Hall is representative for sports, for the Legion, and volunteered to coach a team. Laurie Barkwell said the Legion will support the sports programme in any way, as will the Township of Bexley.

Ted Garrells was representative of Somerville on behalf of Maurice Watson who was ill. Bases are here, as well as mesh and screenings for infield and outfield. Grounds are still a little dusty but a general clean-up was held on Friday night, following this meeting, to better prepare grounds.

Registration took place on Friday night, as well. Already there were three little league teams, one ladies team and two adult ball teams. Above have sponsors.

Lob ball coach will be Jim Hopkins. Little league teams to be coached by Gord Foster and Earl Liscombe. Ron Tufts is coaching the ladies softball team. A regular schedule will be set up for use of park, which is on the north side of the old C.N. station and is open free of charge.

The fire department are putting on a demolition derby on July 29 at 2 p.m. to tie in with the Lion's carnival, smorgasbord, etc. Ways and means of making money to support the park sports was discussed. All in all, it was a worthwhile evening for those who came out in support of sports. If you can help in any way, or can sponsor a team, the committee would be happy to hear from you. Let's make this effort go.

The Red Cross swimming programme is doing well with 73 registered students. Registration is cut off as there are so many little ones and the instructor is very busy. Instructor is Pat (Mrs. Bill Griffin) and leader is Kathie Munro, who assists. The Red Cross will have a booth at the Lions Carnival so look for it. The bake sale raised over $100 and $186 was donated by local businesses and factory. The Red Cross committee appreciate your help and say a big Thank You!

Farmers are well aware that prices for beef cattle have improved this spring. After several years of low prices which forced many beef men out of business, prices are now at a level where cattlemen can hope to break even, and with careful management even regain some of the financial losses suffered during the last four years.

While many consumers, and the news media are commenting on rising beef prices, they need to remember two points. The first is that the cheap beef they enjoyed for the past few years was being heavily subsidized by the farmers who produced it at a loss. And secondly, the price farmers are receiving now are essential to cover the costs of feed, labour, equipment, etc., all of which have been escalating at 8 to 10 per cent per year with inflation.

For many cow-calf producers, these higher prices won't be really meaningful until this fall, when they have calves to sell again.

Recent reports indicate feedlot operators in Western Ontario are finding it hard to find replacement cattle. They are anxious to obtain large lots of uniform cattle at sales this fall even if the prices are high. Let's hope the stocker sales in this area will attract these people, and provide the kind of cattle they want.

The place where cattle make the cheapest gain is on pasture. This year, with potentially high prices for calves this fall, cow-calf operators should be striving for the best possible gains on all their calves. This makes good pasture management even more important.

Yes there is "lots of grass" available this summer, due to the lower numbers of cattle in the area. But how about your pasture field - is there lots of grass there?

Numerous studies have shown that cattle make their best gains on pasture during May and June, and sometimes into July. The heat, flies and lack of moisture during the summer call all affect the cattle, so that they gain little if any, for the rest of the season.

The hot, dry weather we have had for the past several weeks will no doubt be starting to affect pasture gains this year.

Creep feeding calves could pay real dividends this year. Use a prepared beef feed with around 13 per cent protein, or oats or mixed grain.

Be sure that your cattle have adequate drinking water, mineral available, and enough shade. Flies are always a problem, so provide some type of oiler on the pasture and keep it filled with "insecticide".

Rotating pasture helps to provide more freshly grown grass, and this grass gives the gain you want. Also, clipping a pasture field will remove weeds and unpalatable mature grass, and encourage the grasses to grow again.

Another problem which higher beef prices seems to promote is cattle rustling. Try to check your cattle often, especially those on more remote pastures.

Summer theatre continues

Summer theatre continues this week with Theatre 5's production of "Rough Magic", a Shakespearean cabaret - a pot pourri, conveying the spirit and variety of the plays of Wm. Shakespeare.

Sections from approximately 25 plays have been woven together logically and dramatically in "Rough Magic", and presented with considerable energy and comic interest.

Hamlet, Rosalind, Hal, Richard, Bottom, Cleopatra, the bawds, jesters, kings and lovers are just some of the characters to be seen. This production is meant to be accessible to all - even the most casual of theatre goers.

While touring, Theatre 5 plays to a variety of age groups, and they find this very refreshing. This ability to have a broad appeal is unusual for touring groups, which usually limit themselves to a specific audience.

"Rough Magic" promises to be a rewarding evenings entertainment.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Haliburton's new vet and his family, from left, Dr. Vanderwekken, daughter, Lynn, his wife Donna, and daughter Penny, who is six.

Haliburton County gets new veterinarian

by Joe Banks
After several months of attempting to get a large animal veterinarian for Haliburton County, the Livestock Producers Association has finally succeeded.

Dr. J.W. Vanderwekken opened his practice in the county just one and a half weeks ago.

Large animal vets receive an $8000 per year subsidy from the federal government in a program designed to help farmers. As well, the vet's mileage will be subsidized when he is travelling to treat large animals owned by members of the Haliburton County Livestock Producers Association. Members of the Association have also donated money in an effort to help pay for the badly needed vet.

Vanderwekken comes to Haliburton from Iroquois

Falls, where he has practiced for seven years. He says that he "wanted to move further south since he was getting tired of the same practice for seven years."

In addition to the large animal services, Vanderwekken will be catering to the general public as well by offering services for all other kinds of animals.

He is currently setting a trailer up near Carnarvon, where he will be doing most of his work with animals, and hopes to have it completely functional "very soon."

Vanderwekken says that he "hopes to concentrate on preventative medicine rather than treating for injuries. I think through vaccination, proper dieting for the animals and balanced nutrition, I can solve most of the problems. But first, I have to see what kinds of diseases there are around here. The diseases most animals are subject to where I come from are different than the ones here...I'll have to see what they are."

He added that the most common problem he encounters in animals is reproduction deficiencies. Through a preventative medicine program he hopes to be able to curb the problem.

"If a cow is half-starved and skinny, and not really ready to give birth to a calf, then there will be problems. Through proper dieting we can correct the problem right away," he said.

Vanderwekken said that if farmers call him for routine practices, such as vaccinations and the like, the source of many of the problems will be stopped.

"It's also kind of a public relations thing, by trying to educate the farmer about preventative medicine and proper dieting," he said.

Vanderwekken also said that he likes Haliburton County very much and "would like to stay the rest of my life - we're tired of moving and we'd like to settle down for good."

"We haven't seen anything we don't like yet," he added.

When asked why he decided to be a vet, Vanderwekken replied "I've always liked the outdoors and I liked working with animals. I thought of becoming a medical doctor, but I didn't like the idea of sitting in an office...I guess the biggest reason is because of the outdoors."

Scouts spend weekend in Irondale

A recent week-end saw the 45th, 31st Cub packs, 41st Venturers and leaders of the Tadenac area. East Toronto camped on the lawn of Mr. & Mrs. James McKee's cottage, Irondale.

The 39 boys and leaders came on Friday afternoon and were soon allotted to eight tents erected during the week by an advance party.

Saturday morning they went on a four mile hike and were provided with a lunch. The day was hot and later all enjoyed a good swim. In the afternoon after a rest period many tests were run off and badges presented. In the evening all sat around a camp fire singing songs and telling stories.

Sunday morning a Cub's Own Service was held. Mrs. McKee opened the service with a prayer. One of the senior leaders gave an appropriate and interesting talk.

With regret they had to pack up and leave for Toronto in the afternoon.

This is the sixth year Mr. & Mrs. McKee have brought their cup packs and scout troops to Irondale. They have participated in three week-long. Considerable money was raised which they donated to the local Anglican church.

The names of the leaders and boys were:

45A Cubs: Leaders - Joan Thompson, Marlene McKee, Gord Smith, Leonard Thompson (244 Venturer), Philip Thompson (45 Scout), Tabby Hazard (Jr. Leader) Cubs - Ross Booth, Michael Gillis, Jimmy Graham, Jimmy Hughes, Grant James, Gerard Klaus, Aaron Lawrence, Elliott Lawrence, Michael Thompson, Glen Wilson.

OHRP grants to municipalities

The Township of Lutterworth was among nine municipalities receiving grants totalling $315,277 under the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP), according to Housing Minister Claude Bennett. $27,000. will be available to residents of Lutterworth.

OHRP provides per capita grants to Ontario municipalities to administer directly as loans to homeowner occupants to repair their houses to an acceptable municipal minimum standard.

Loans of up to $7,500. can be given to eligible owner occupants lum of Lindsay is visiting her Aunt Mrs. Ethel Harrison this week.

Last Friday evening there was a farewell party at the Community Centre for Pat & Heather Harrington. Pat has accepted a transfer to Bracebridge where he will be a foreman with Ontario Hydro. They were presented with a painting of their farm, also a photo album in the front of which was a poem about the Harringtons, composed by Dean Elliott. This was read to the guests. The guest book, also a present, was signed by all present. The highlight of the lunch served was the 2 lb. lobster sent up by Bill Pollard of Norland and admired by all, before it was cooked by Ed Pergolas and served to those present.

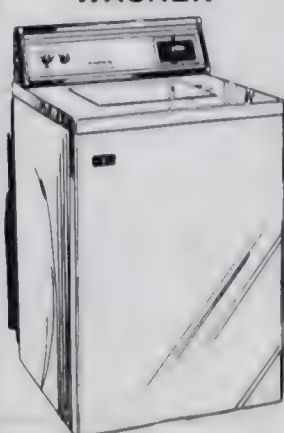

The Minden and District Horticultural meeting was held at the Minden Municipal building last week and everyone enjoyed hearing about the convention from Mr. and Mrs. George Tipton. Plans were made for the different events taking place during the summer. A phoning committee was appointed and you will be hearing from them about said events.

There was a discussion on a bus trip in October to Hamilton Botanical Gardens and all were in favour of the trip.

At August first meeting Mrs. Pat Campbell will be giving hints on how to display your flowers at the County Fair, also you are asked to bring an arrangement done by you and she will tell you how it could be improved. None will be labelled so do not worry, if you want to know how to make it better you will be told, as a group, not as a person.

Adios and take care now.

Horse drawing: A sport and a spectacle

Awaiting their turn, a team and a friend enjoy a moment of quiet

Driving hard, a light horse team moves the boat

Power: Muscles bulge as two ton teams pound earth into dust, straining to pull the stone boat

They enter the drawing ring with their heads held high, muscles rippling, the silver and brass on their harnesses sparkling in the sun. The ground shakes under the dull thudding of hooves that support more than two tons of horse flesh.

The teamster trots easily behind them, restraining them gently with a sure hand on the reins, talking to them, keeping the animals calm.

When the call to pull comes, the team makes a wide arc around the ring, turning tightly at the end to come around in front of the stone boat.

Excitement builds among the spectators as the pull nears and the horses sense it. They seem to know that they are here this day for one reason alone; to pull as much weight as they can for a distance of twenty feet.

the creak of a fine leather harness.

There are men who still love teams as most men once did, and Ingram Wessel, of R.R. 1, Norland, is one of them. He owns a team of heavy horses, and he goes to as many pulls as he can get to each summer. Saturday in Norland, at the annual Norland firefighters pull, he won first prize in the heavy horse class, and his team was judged the "best dressed" among the nineteen that took part.

"When I was a kid we did all our farm work with horses", Mr. Wessel says, "and I just never got away from them."

"Once anybody starts in (to horse pulling) they can't seem to give it up. It's the spirit of competition". It is not, as Mr. Wessel is quick to point out, the money. There is very little of that to McFeeters other horse came from the United States, Mr. Wessel says.

A pulling horse can cost from $2,500 to $5,000, depending on how good they are. In the States, they get much more valuable than that. There, it's a business.

Each teamster has a little different way of doing things, a little different idea of what to look for in a pulling team.

"I like to get a horse that nobody else has drew before", Mr. Wessel says. "Some chaps buy them when they're four years old and start working them then."

"From eight to 12 years old is the best time, some claim", though Mr. Wessel points out that Murray Cowan, another well known area teamster, has used a horse as old as 21 for drawing.

"Horses aren't worked as hard as they used to be". "I do very little work with mine", Mr. Wessel says. "It's just a pleasure to use horses".

"There's the odd horse that's just a natural born puller, but most have to be worked".

"Some chaps will cultivate with them. A lot of chaps use sleighs in the summer time around trails", or sleighs loaded with stone. The idea is to get the horses working against something to build up their muscles and keep them in shape. But it takes caution and skill to make good drawing horses. "Draw them to death and they'll soon give up", Mr. Wessel says.

Like people, horses have unique personalities, and part of the challenge of being a good teamster is to understand your horses.

"I believe you have to spend a little time with them, and use a little common sense. You have to figure them out", and learn to "keep one jump ahead of them".

"Horses are like men", Ingram Wessel says. "They have their good days and their bad days".

On a good day, the horses seem to enjoy the competition as much as their masters. One of Mr. Wessel's horses in particular seems to enjoy the excitement of a pulling match.

"I honestly think that he enjoys to go to a fair". And it's the same with other teams, owned by other men. "The teams enjoy to go. They like the attention you know".

Grant Quinn backs his team into hitching position

The teamster backs the animals up, cajoling them, holding them back until the moment is right.

With a clank, the hook connected to the team's harness drops into the eye of the stone boat. The horses surge forward at the sound. Lunging into their neck collars, muscles straining, hunkering down, their heavily shod hooves throw up clouds of dark earth and a thick cloud of dust.

The teamster urges them on, calling their names, yelling "pull", or whatever words the team responds to. It takes only a few seconds, when things are going well, for the stone boat to cover the twenty feet, and on a good day, an exceptional team may pull almost six tons.

It's a sight that sets spectators thinking of the days when horses were the most powerful thing a man could use, and when a fine team was a man's proudest possession.

Work horses are rare now. They've long since been replaced by massive tractors and other machinery. But the smell of diesel fuel can never compare with the pungent sweetness of a sweating team, and the grinding of gears is far harsher than be won at horse pulls anywhere in Canada, though in the United States, a good team and teamster can make enough to pay expenses and leave some extra as well.

There is a spirit of comradeship at horse pulls that you don't find in many other places, Mr. Wessel says. In part, it's the love of horses that brings the teamsters out to pull after pull.

"Horsemen are nice guys to talk to". "We all enjoy horses. And it's a great thrill to win, to see your team do well for you".

Horses used for pulling events can come from many places, and teamsters like Mr. Wessel often travel a long way to find the animals they want. One of his horses was raised around Lindsay, but the other was purchased from Zearling, Iowa. It was once the lead horse in a 40 horse hitch that was a common sight in parades all over the United States.

Joe McFeeters, of Fenelon Falls, another teamster who travels to pulls in many places, bought one of his horses from Owen Sound when it was three years old. It is now 12, and in its prime.

Grant Quinn and his team

Doug Coad, light horse winner, urges on his team

The strain on the horses when they churn into their harnesses against the drag of the stone boat can be tremendous, but most teamsters are cautious and concerned about the well-being of their animals. If a team isn't pulling together, a good teamster will withdraw them.

"It's not often they get hurt", but it does occasionally happen. Mr. Wessel's team has drawn as much as 11,700 pounds, and he says he has heard of teams that could draw more than that. But, he says "I have never seen a horse snap a leg, and I've never seen a horse take a heart attack".

Hitchers, though, can get hurt very easily if they aren't careful. That's one reason Mr. Wessel hitches his team to the boat by himself, though most teamsters do make use of a hitcher.

"I hitch my own horses", Mr. Wessel says. "I like to do it because I know what's going on".

There are at least 30 pulls a year in Ontario, and Mr. Wessel tries to go to as many of them as he can. Most of the other teamsters do the same.

"Most of the drawing matches are clean, decent sports", Mr. Wessel says. "One teamster will hitch for another."

"We enjoy it as a family. As for making money, you lose".

But it's a real pleasure for those who do it, and it pleases spectators as well. Mr. Wessel says horse draws are the thing that holds many small fairs together.

Horsemen also get pleasure out of trying to come up with a matched team that will pull well together. "Horse drawing men do a lot of dealing", buying and trading among themselves. That's part of the fun."

It's the thrill of the draw though, when the crowd is hushed and the horses are prancing in anticipation that makes all the effort and expense worthwhile for men like Ingram Wessel.

"I wouldn't want to be without a team", he says. They're just a part of you".

Haliburton Highlights

We were certainly delighted to hear that Murray Fearrey, reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al, has announced that he will be at his office in the municipal building, in Haliburton, every Monday evening from 7:00 p.m., to hear municipally related problems. Being reeve of this fast growing municipality is a big job that is taking up a great deal of his time. He works hour after hour, night after night, on municipal affairs, and is doing an outstanding job on our behalf. But, on the other hand, we have to give him a break. As we all know, besides being reeve, he is a partner at Haliburton Lumber and it's not fair to take up his time at his place of business on municipal business. Let's use a little common sense and if you have a municipal problem, see him on Monday nights at the municipal hall. For an appointment call the municipal office at 457-1740. There's not that many problems that can't wait until Monday night. This move will give you, as a ratepayer, the opportunity to air your problems in private and let's make sure that we take advantage of this service.

We would like to know why the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit keep feeding us press releases from time to time that in most cases tell us nothing. When we do try to get some information that is important to everyone in Haliburton County, we can't seem to get it. They must be trying to keep it a secret. From time to time, in this newspaper, we have tried to get the local health unit to publish a report on the conditions of local lakes and rivers in Haliburton, but we can't seem to get any results. Just what are they trying to hold back. The people want to know if certain lakes and rivers are polluted, for health sake. Is it wise to swim at Rotary Beach? What lakes and rivers in Haliburton County are polluted and what lakes aren't? All we are asking for is a pollution count. If all lakes are safe to swim in then everyone should know. If not, signs should be posted stating "This Lake is Polluted - No Swimming".

Bill Deacon, a former resident of Haliburton.

and who has worked with the CNR for many years, and at on time worked in the CNR station at Haliburton, has now retired. A party was held for Bill at his home in Oakville recently, when a group of friends and relatives gathered for a retirement party. We wish Bill the best of luck and many years of good health and enjoyment.

The Haliburton Ball Club, who have been tied with Lindsay for first place, have now pulled well ahead and are in a good solid position to hold this spot. They have won their last ten games in a row and on Monday, July 3, defeated Fenelon Falls, in Fenelon, by the score of 12-6. The following night, back in Haliburton, they shut out Bobcaygeon by the score of 5-0. The Haliburton club play all their home games at the Haliburton fairgrounds every Tuesday night, starting at 8:00 p.m. Why not treat yourself to a great night of softball action by going to the ball park and cheering the local team on to victory.

The Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen will hold their monthly communion and breakfast at St. Andrews Church, at West Guilford, this coming Sunday, July 16, at 8 a.m. The speaker will be

ELIMINATE WINTER TIRE CHANGEOVER

Announcing

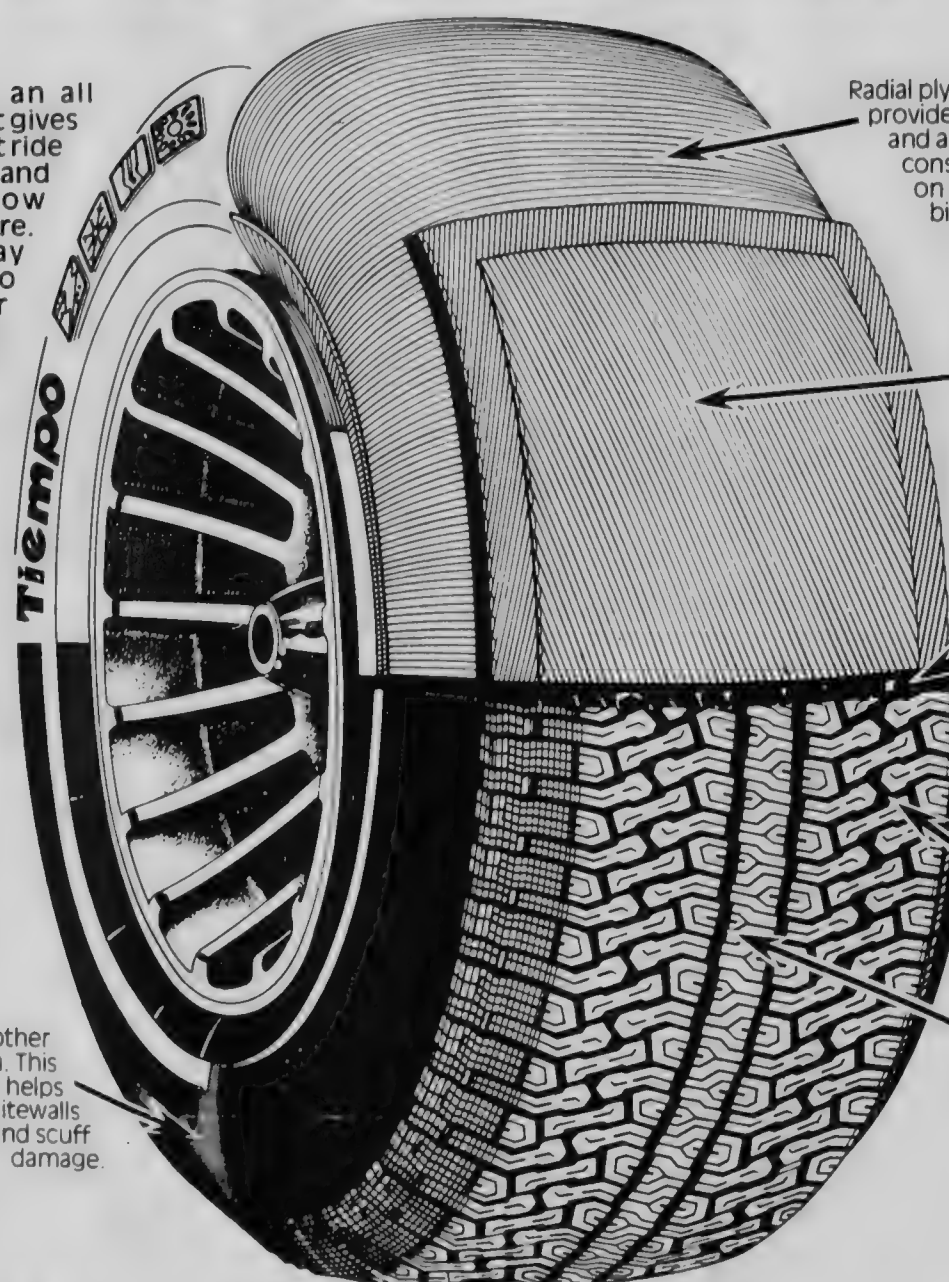

Tiempo

The All Season Steel Belted Radial

Now you can buy an all season radial tire that gives you the smooth quiet ride of a summer radial and handles winter snow and ice like a snow tire. Just think, you may never have to go to the expense or trouble of changing over to winter tires again.

Tiempo, a new kind of tire for every kind of weather.

See us now for this great new tire from Goodyear.

Radial ply polyester cord body helps provide sidewall strength, flexibility and a smooth ride. Radial construction saves you money on gasoline compared to bias-ply tires.

Two rugged belts of steel cord help minimize wear, bruising and penetrations in the critical tread area season after season.

The tread rubber is specially compounded to give you traction even on glare ice. Without studs. How? The tread rubber maintains flexibility, and traction, at temperatures well below freezing.

Over 10,000 biting edges give Tiempo traction and pull on ice and snow. Tiempo meets Rubber Manufacturers Association standards as a snow tire. Yet on dry pavement, the unique centre "whisper" rib design suppresses noise for a smooth, quiet ride.

Scuff Bar, another Goodyear extra. This built-in scuff bar helps protect the whitewalls from curb and scuff damage.

Blaine Tunall of Haliburton. I have personally heard Blaine speak three or four times and let me tell you that his testimony is well worth listening to. Everyone is looking for a good turnout at this meeting.

From time to time we all seem to get into the habit of driving too fast and exceeding the speed limit which is, as we know, strictly against the law. If we are caught exceeding the speed limit and pulled off to the side of the highway by the OPP, we know that we are breaking the law. It is for our own good that we don't drive too fast so that we have control of the vehicle we are driving. We must also always be on the defensive for other drivers who are driving too fast and could lose control and pile into our vehicle, possibly killing the driver and other passengers. On the other hand, what about the driver who goes to the other extreme and drives too slow? I travel from Haliburton to Minden and back twice a week and nearly everytime that I am on the highway, there is some driver puddling along the road at about 20 to 30 miles an hour. In my opinion these drivers, in most cases, are the cause of many accidents and are just as much of a hazard on the highway as the person who drives too fast.

The Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts 1978 Summer Exhibition and Sale of Arts and Crafts is in full swing at the Senior Elementary School in Haliburton. The exhibition and sale, which opened on July 8th, is on daily until July 18th. The times are 11:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. and on Sundays 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Plan now to attend.

We were talking the other day to our good friend, Norm Sisco, former principal of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Norm, who is now retired and has a cottage on Drag Lake, told me that he still keeps quite busy and active working on several projects and is called on for many speaking engagements. He was the guest speaker at the opening night of the Summer Exhibition and Sale, held on Friday, July 7.

The Pop Shoppe had its grand opening in Haliburton last Thursday and from all reports business was quite brisk. The new business is located on Hwy. 121 next to LaRue Motor Sales Ltd., in Haliburton. Why not drop down and see the choice of many great flavours. It's easy shopping, just drive on in, browse around, and load up.

The new IGA parking lot, on Haliburton's main street, has really solved some of the parking problems that the village has been faced with. It leaves more parking area on the main drag and this new lot can take a great many vehicles.

The Haliburton Rotary Summer Carnival and parade may be a few weeks away, but final preparations are now being made to ensure that it will be one of the biggest and best ever held. The Carnival this year will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 2 and 3. Wednesday night, August 2, at 7 p.m., will be the big parade and this year's parade theme will be "Heritage Canada." Allan Bagg, parade chairman, told me this week that they are lining up bands and that they have ordered costumes with Disney characters and animals which can be rented from the Rotary Club for the parade. And just a reminder to all the kids. Get set to decorate your bicycles because there will be good prizes given out to the winners.

We have just received word that Nancy Brink, of Nancy's Flowers, Haliburton, has graduated with honours after completing a course on advanced floral designing in Guelph.

Mr. Lou Consy owner of the Molou theatre in Haliburton announced to-day that he has installed a solid-state sound system at the Molou for your added enjoyment and listening pleasure. This latest type sound system is one of the finest of its type in Canada. The next time you are watching a movie at the theatre you will notice the clarity and sharpness in the sound Mr. Consy went on to say that it will once again be the policy to bring in top rated movies to the Molou.

Disco Fever has hit the Pinestone Inn and Country Club at Haliburton. The management has announced that they will be holding a Disco dance as a trial run on Wednesday, July 19 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and if it proves successful, they will continue to have them on an ongoing basis. A disc-jockey will be on hand to supply the music. There will be an admission charge. This is something new for the area and should really catch on with the young people.

The need was never greater for the merchants of Haliburton to form a Businessmen's Association. It can't come too soon and we realize that nothing can be done during the summer months but come September plans must be made to get this organization off the ground and in full swing. I have personally been talking with many of the business people who have finally come to the conclusion that it's time we all got together and solve some of the problems that confront us. We cannot gain any ground by doing things on an individual basis but as a group pulling together a great deal can be accomplished. Let's not forget that we are all in this ball game together and it's up to us whether we are going to sink or swim. As the village grows and there is no doubt that it's growing, we as business people must work toward a common goal of growing along with it.

During the past months, many problems and solutions have come up that concern you as a business person and they must be discussed in a constructive manner. We are not going to go into all of them at this point, but one of the major problems that comes to mind is the store hours. Many business people tell us that Saturday, July 1, which should have been a booming day for business in Haliburton, was a disappointment.

Visitors, as well as local people, didn't know if the stores were opened or closed on Friday and Saturday and Monday. These hours, another year, should be published so that the people will know when to come into town. We hope that when this organization is formed, that 100 per cent of the business people will belong.

OPP Report

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of July 3 to 9.

During this period, the staff investigated 19 reportable collisions and 2 non-reportable motor vehicle collisions.

Some 108 general occurrences were also investigated.

Minden group committee elects executive

Don Mann was elected chairman of the 1st Minden Group Committee at the annual meeting in Minden recently.

The group committee oversees the scouting movement in the Minden area, and is made up of interested citizens, as well as leaders of the various scouting groups.

Lillian Mann was elected secretary of the group, and Bruna Foran was named treasurer. The position of vice chairman was not filled at the meeting, and the executive stressed that the position must be filled if the group committee is to continue to function effectively.

Past chairman, Gerry Feltham, addressed the meeting, and the text of his address follows: During my stint as chairman, I have had the real pleasure of associating with some of the county's finest. I cannot give enough credit and praise to the men and women who have given much time, thought, and tenderness, each and every week throughout the year, for a number of years, towards the leadership of many boys in this community. Already I have seen certain evidence of boys who have benefited from the Scouting Movement. Some of those "boys" are presently assuming leadership roles as very responsible and capable young men; and they are doing a magnificent job.

It is said that nobody is indispensable. Still, Angie McCloskey and Diane Pratt are such an integral part of the Beavers - being the founders of the group in this area - it is strange to imagine them being no longer with their colonies. Fortunately for the Beavers, they have Mary Lou Johnson and Michael Wooden, along with Mike Renault and Jamie Wooden and two Keos who have already been giving outstanding leadership to the movement's youngest group. It is equally difficult to believe that our "troop scouter", Fred Pratt, will be discontinuing his leadership, presumably as soon as we can establish a suitable replacement. As with Angie, and Diane, Fred has dedicated himself thoroughly to the Scout troops. Ted Reid and Bill Beers will certainly miss him but their dedication and good qualities will see them through.

One of the marks of good leaders is when they can retire from their positions, confidently realizing that the cause which they served will continue towards high ideals because they had prepared well those following in their foot-steps. As with the Beavers and Scouts, this kind of leadership training continues to occur also within the Cub packs and Venturer company, thanks to Don Blakey, Colin Hewitt, Frances Willey, Gary Anderson, Bob Pearson, Randy Peacock, Eric Milburn, and their helpers - all of whom are just terrific! Certainly Susan

Beers and other ladies of the Ladies Auxiliary have also been a great help to the Scouting Movement. By identifying the present leaders I'm not meaning to overlook Lloyd Johnston, Don Barry, Joan Pearson, Mike Legge and others, all of whom have had a tremendous impact on the Scouting Movement in this area.

Although I have mentioned Angie, Diane and Fred as retiring from their positions in direct leadership with their groups, I am not acknowledging their retirement from the scouting movement. I am sure that they will assist the groups whenever necessary, and that they will want to remain active on the group committee.

No doubt, when each group makes their reports, they will refer to the highlights of this past year. For the group committee I wish to cite in particular the opportunity we have had, to work with other members (and leaders) of other group committees in the county. Such occasions were important steps for the scouting movement and Haliburton County. This opportunity fulfilled itself through events such as C/J 77, the Festival of Fun 77, 78, inter-group meetings, and the recent leadership training weekend (arranged well by Frances Willey). All of these are meant to be ongoing. As a result, Carnarvon, Haliburton, Minden and in time possibly other group committees in the county will continue to benefit (as well as the scouting itself) through joint planning and activities.

Prior to the past three to four years, I had little or no knowledge of the scouting movement. However, since I have learned to understand and to appreciate somewhat its philosophy and functions. Time does not permit me to say all which I should like to say about the scouting movement. Certainly the scout promise - to do one's best to love and to serve God, Queen, country and fellowman, and to live by the scout law (which involves being helpful, considerate, clean, and wise in the use of resources) - is a promise worthy of any fellow human. I am not aware of any other organization, with such a huge following throughout the world, which expects such high ideals from both children and adults.

Today I step down from the position of chairman with no feelings of regret. While in this position I had it rather easy, not only because of the goodwill and co-operation of the voluntary leaders, but also because of such persons as Wally Brown, Charlie Brandon, Father Brown, Joanne Penfold, Brian Cross, Lillian and Don Mann - all of whom remained loyal, enthusiastic, and responsible as members (with me) of the 1st Minden Boy Scout Group Committee. For their tremendous assistance I remain quite indebted. Without doubt I feel confident that the new executive to be elected will continue to get the same favourable responses which I had.

On July 4 the reservoirs still contained 92.3 per cent of their maximum storage. This had declined by 3.5 per cent from last week with increased evaporation. Evaporation from the Kawartha over 3 cm during the eight days before July 4.

Reservoir flows have been increased to counteract the high evaporation. At the same time the Otonabee flows have been reduced to about 600 cfs (17.0 cubic metres per second) from about 750 cfs (21.2 cubic metres per second).

Kawartha levels are now holding near normal navigation maximum.

13 year-old Fernand Juneau, (left) from Quebec visited Haliburton this week as part of a student exchange program. His reciprocal partner, Jeff Whitfield, showed Fernand the various sites around the village. Fernand and Jeff will leave for St. Augustine, Quebec Friday night.

A young Quebecois visits Haliburton

Haliburton County is host to a special visitor from St. Augustine, Quebec, this week.

Fernand Juneau, 13, is staying at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Adrien Whitfield, in Haliburton, as part of a student exchange program organized by a Toronto firm. Juneau and his reciprocal partner, Jeff Whitfield, paid a visit to The Echo office, Saturday, along with Jeff's mother, Maureen, to discuss Juneau's visit. Though he could not speak English fluently, Juneau managed to communicate what he thought of the village, its people and the county's scenery.

"I like it," he said in a sum-up.

Juneau and Jeff Whitfield have gone fishing, swimming and have visited the village's local sights during the past week. The Whitfields are planning to take Juneau to Toronto or Collingwood during this week.

Juneau admits that he was surprised at the number of lakes in the area. St. Augustine, he said, does not have any lakes and all swimming is done in pools in backyards. When Jeff took him swimming in one of the lakes, Juneau was a bit apprehensive since he was only used to swimming in a small area.

He enjoyed fishing also, and said he had done some fishing prior to coming to Ontario.

Travelling, too, is a new concept to the young Quebecer. He has not travelled farther than Montreal from St. Augustine, where his parents own a farm.

Skyline Park, the 'Highlander' train, and the schools are among some of the sights Juneau has seen during his stay. Jeff said he hopes to show his Quebec friend the pioneer museum, as well.

Juneau said the people he has met in Haliburton are "friendly" and added that he would like to return to the village some day.

His parents liked the idea of the program, having sent their daughter on a similar exchange some years ago. Juneau says that he has learned some English during his visit.

Jeff Whitfield says that he too, has learned French and adds that some of the French he had learned in school has helped him in his efforts to communicate with Juneau in the young Quebecois' native tongue.

Maureen Whitfield, Jeff's mother, says that "I've been learning too. It's too bad we couldn't have Fernand all summer, then I could learn much more."

Jeff admits that he is looking forward to the trip to Quebec, "but not to the French-speaking part."

He will be leaving for St. Augustine with Juneau on July 14.

Bushwolf COUNTRY ESTATES

Bushwolf Lake

Exclusive agents for Bushwolf Country Estates

14 oversized, executive leisure home sites offering complete privacy and the features of a private lake. All are government approved and most have sandy bottom frontage.

Year-round activities: boating, swimming, water-skiing, fishing, hunting, nature walks, etc. in summer and cross country skiing, snowshoeing and snowmobiling in winter.

Downhill skiing at Sir Sam's 1 double chair lift, 2000' T bar and pony tow just 3 minute drive or a ski-doo ride through the park.

Bushwolf is one of the few accessible unspoiled wilderness lakes in Haliburton. Its deep, crystal clear water tests 'excellent' for drinking. Countless bays, coves and a couple of islands are surrounded by evergreens, maples and birch. The far shore paints a pretty view of the setting sun and steep rocky shores.

Ample shopping for groceries, hardware, etc. is only 2 miles away in the village of Eagle Lake.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT NOTICE

THE EXPROPRIATIONS ACT NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL TO EXPROPRIATE LAND

IN THE MATTER of an application by the Minister of Transportation and Communications for approval to expropriate lands being in the Township of Snowdon, in the Provisional County of Haliburton, in the Province of Ontario, for the purpose of widening and reconstructing a portion of Secondary Highway 503.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that application has been made for approval to expropriate the land described in the schedule hereto. Any owner of land in respect of which notice is given who desires an inquiry into whether the taking of such land is, in fact, sound and reasonably necessary in the achievement of the objectives of the expropriating authority shall so notify the approving authority in writing, (a) in the case of a registered owner, served personally or by registered mail within thirty days after he is served with the notice, or when he is served by publication, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice, (b) in the case of an owner who is not a registered owner, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice.

THE APPROVING AUTHORITY is the Minister of Transportation and Communications, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 1Z8.
Minister of Transportation and Communications
W.G. Wigle
Regional Director
Postal Bag 4000
Kingston, Ontario K7L 5A3

NOTES:
1. The Expropriations Act provides that:
(a) where an inquiry is requested, it shall be conducted by an inquiry officer appointed by the Minister of Justice and Attorney General;
(b) the inquiry officer:
(i) shall give every party to the inquiry an opportunity to present evidence and argument and to examine and cross-examine witnesses, either personally or by his counsel or agent; and
(ii) may recommend to the approving authority that a party to the inquiry be paid a fixed amount for his costs of the inquiry not to exceed $200 and the approving authority may in its discretion order the expropriating authority to pay such costs forthwith.
2. owner and registered owner are defined in the Act as follows:
owner includes a mortgagee, tenant, execution creditor, a person entitled to a limited estate or interest in land, a committee of the estate of a mentally incompetent person or a person incapable of managing his affairs, and a guardian, executor, administrator or trustee in whom land is vested.
registered owner means an owner of land whose interest in the land is defined and whose name is specified in an instrument in the proper Land Registry or Sheriff's office, and includes a person shown as a tenant of land on the last revised assessment roll.
3. The expropriating authority, each owner who notifies the approving authority that he desires a hearing in respect of the lands intended to be expropriated and any owner added as a party by the inquiry officer are parties to the inquiry.

NOTICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I will not be responsible for any debts incurred in my name by Mildred (Mina) Bain as of June 24, 1978.

Fire warning issued to holiday campers

Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada has issued a warning to campers that an open flame in or near a tent can create a serious fire hazard.

It's possible for a nonflame retarded cotton tent to burn to the ground in as little as 45 seconds.

In fact, any cotton tent that hasn't been treated with flame retardants, will ignite easily and burn rapidly when exposed to an open flame or other ignition source. Similarly, nylon tents can be ignited but will burn much less rapidly than cotton tents.

Even after they are treated with flame retardants at the factory, cotton and nylon tents are not fireproof - the process only makes them more resistant to ignition and ensures they will not burn as readily. Because there still exists a measurable hazard from fire and from smoke, as much care should be exercised with these tents as with untreated ones.

To help ensure that a camping holiday does not become a camping tragedy, Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada recommends the following precautions be observed when tenting:

- Do not use candles or matches or open flames of any kind in or near a tent.

- Discourage smoking in tents.

- Build campfires downwind and several yards away from the tent. Always be sure to fully extinguish camp fires before leaving camp or before retiring for the night.

- Practise extreme caution when using fuel-powered lanterns and heaters inside tents, and use battery-operated equipment wherever possible.

- Extinguish or turn off all lanterns before going to bed.

- Never use cook stoves inside the tent.

- Keep all flammable liquids such as gasoline or kerosene in tightly-capped safety cans, stored out of the reach of children and well away from the tent.

- Bring along a portable fire extinguisher when camping.

- Develop an escape plan for getting out of the tent quickly in case of emergency. Keep a knife handy to cut an escape hole in the tent should the exit become blocked.

Haliburton Legion Carnival

Parade to improve

The Haliburton Legion carnival, which has in past years encountered difficulty in coming up with a good parade, should be much better this year, organizers hope. The carnival, slated for next Wednesday night, will be the 33rd annual event, and will mark the 50th year that the Legion has served Haliburton and the surrounding area.

Amidway will operate at the fairgrounds and curling club through out the afternoon. The evening's activities get underway at 6:30 p.m. when jet aircraft of the Canadian Armed Forces will perform a fly past.

The parade begins at 7 p.m. and will feature three bands a large number of floats, as well as marching units. A pipe band concert will take place at the fairgrounds following the parade.

Rides and games of chance will continue throughout the evening and a bingo will be held in the Legion auditorium at 8 p.m.

A dance will also be held to the music of the Ike Keneck band.

The draw for a Ford Bronco takes place at 11 p.m. Organizers are hoping a large crowd will be on hand to share in the festivities.

Many attend service

A number of people from Stanhope Township, journeyed to Thornhill last Tuesday evening to attend a memorial service to B. Napier Simpson, Jr., at Holy Trinity Anglican Church, which was conducted by Rev. Robert Grisdale, and guest clergy from the diocese of Toronto. Rev. Grisdale gave an inspirational and comforting address to well over a thousand people who filled every corner of this large church to pay tribute to one of Thornhill's most respected citizens.

The eulogy delivered by Dr. J.M. Careless touched on the personal side of Napier Simpson as one who gave so much of himself so that we might all have a better Canada in which to live. Dr. Careless is a world renowned historian and had served with Napier as a fellow director of the Historical Sites and Monuments Board. They enjoyed a social evening together on the eve of the tragic airplane crash that took Napier's life the following morning along with seven other members and two air crew on their way from St. John's, Newfoundland, to St. Clements, to dedicate monuments which were installed to commemorate the landing of the first Vikings centuries ago.

From page 5 assistance. Deinstitutionalization is also appealing because it is less expensive to the taxpayer to offer treatment and support services in the community.

However, the manner in which the Government has promoted the idea of deinstitutionalization to the public seems to have been rather simplistic. Only one half of the equation has been filled - forcing people to leave expensive institutions - but alternative programs to help them function once they are back in the community have not been developed.

We all acknowledge the need to control and rationalize vast expenditures in the social services field. However, the need for wise use of our financial resources does not justify budgetary practices which permit additional expenditures for administrative purposes which far exceed those for program delivery. Comparing the Ministry's interim figures for this year's estimates, we find that administration has been allocated an increase of 26 per cent, while the Social and Developmental fields and Children's Services will receive increased budgets of 5 per cent, 10 per cent and 12 per cent respectively.
